HOOVER WINS

Orange County Casts Largest Vote In All Its History

CHAPMAN IS ELECTED TO OFFICE OF SUPERVISOR BY PLURALITY OF 2000

Senator Hiram Johnson Is Also Given Overwhelming Victory Over His Democratic Opponent Moore

TWO PRECINCTS FOR SMITH

ORANGE COUNTY put the largest vote in its history in the ballot box at yesterday's election when it cast over 39,000 tickets, reserving approximately 30,000 for Herbert Hoover, Republican candidate, whose election throughout the country is assured. Santa Ana elected C. H. Chapman to the position of supervisor from the first district, giving him 5,714 votes to 3,709 for J. L. McBride, his opponent in the race.

Senator Hiram Johnson won an overwhelming victory over Minor Moore, democratic candidate, in the Orange county precincts. Johnson's total was 23,759 while Moore received 3194 votes. The total for Randall was 2912.

Only two precincts in the county gave Smith an advantage over Hoover, Silverado and Trabuco giving the democratic candidate a slight majority.

In the presidential contest Hoover had polled 30,116 votes at noon and this figure was expected to go well over the 30,000 mark when precinct No. 2 at Laguna Beach and the Wintersburg precinct were heard from. Governor Al Smith received 7497 votes from Orange county with these two precincts still not heard from. The socialist vote was 327 while the prohibition ticket accounted for 296 of the votes received by Hoover.

Only 12,123 of the 51,097 voters registered in Orange county failed to cast their ballots yesterday and figures today showed that between 75 and 80 per cent of the electors marched into the voting booths.

In every community of Orange county Herbert Hoover was accorded an enthusiastic majority. Santa Ana gave him 9,026 votes to 2,066 for Smith. Thus the city went between four and five to one for Hoover.

Orange gave Hoover 2,574 votes to 405 accorded Smith. Anaheim piled up 2,660 votes on Hoover's stack, giving Smith 1,016. Fullerton's total for Hoover was 2,999, while the city gave Smith 542 tickets. Huntington Beach put 1,036 ballots in the box for Hoover and 394 for Smith. Costa Mesa gave Hoover 651 votes and Smith 197. Newport Beach gave Hoover 676 votes and Smith 246. Brea's vote was 651 for Hoover and 145 for Smith. Buena Park gave Hoover 429 votes and Smith 136. Garden Grove accorded Hoover 887 ballots and Smith 140. La Habra gave Hoover a lead over Smith with a vote of 638 to 108. Olive gave Hoover 219 votes and Smith 56. San Clemente's vote for Hoover was 128 and for Smith 75. Seal Beach gave Hoover 217 votes and Smith 139. Tustin gave Hoo-

METROPOLITAN WATER BILL IS CARRIED HERE

Orange Defeats Proposition But Anaheim Votes In Favor of It

Santa Ana and Anaheim today stand ready to join the huge Metropolitan Water district for bringing water to Southern California from the Colorado river, while the city of Orange definitely has decided not to become a part of the project.

With complete returns tabulated today Santa Ana had voted 6211 to 1277 to enter the district while Anaheim carried to the proposition by a vote of 1792 to 607. The vote in Orange was 773 in favor of entering the district and 1249 against the proposition.

A partial check on the vote received by the 21 amandments on the ballot revealed that Orange county had voted overwhelmingly in favor of the reapportionment proposal, the totals being 19,808 for it and 7911 against it.

Proposition five on the ballot was defeated decisively in this section by a vote of 17,716 against and 13,901 for the proposal. Proposition five would return the state to the former so-called amateur system of four round boxing bouts. The defeat of the proposition means that the present system under a commission will be kept in force.

The anti-rodeo bill which would prevent the staging of rodeo programs in the state was lost in Orange county by a vote of 19,191 to 10,165.

Incomplete tabulation of returns on the other propositions on the ballot showed that numbers two to four had carried in this county, these being the Olympian bonds, the tax amendment and state park bonds. Number seven, the water amendment, number eight, the motor vehicle taxation bill, number

ROOSEVELT ELECTED NEW YORK GOVERNOR

NEW YORK, Nov. 7.—(INS)—Franklin D. Roosevelt, Democrat, former assistant secretary of the navy, was elected governor over Attorney General Albert Ottinger, Republican, by approximately 50,000 votes, final returns showed today.

United States Senator Royal S. Copeland was re-elected by a plurality of about 200,000. He defeated Alanson B. Houghton, of Corning, former ambassador to Great Britain.

The rest of the Democratic state ticket is expected to pull through by pluralities ranging from 25,000 to 50,000.

OIL PRODUCTION IN U. S. SHOWS DECLINE

TULSA, Okla., Nov. 7.—(UP)—National production of crude oil totaled 2,504,196 barrels daily average, a decline last week of 9182 barrels in general production and of 18,478 barrels for light oil, figures of the Oil and Gas Journal show today.

The mid-continent field produced 17,957 barrels less than a week before, to a daily average of 1,097,664 barrels.

Oklahoma's output dropped 12,845 barrels to 257,540. Declines in the Seminole and St. Louis-Pearson areas caused this slump.

WIFE OF SEN. SMOOT DIES IN WASHINGTON

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7.—(INS)—Mrs. Reed Smoot, wife of Senator Smoot (R) of Utah, died at [illegible] o'clock this morning after a lingering illness.

The body will be taken to Provo, Utah, Mrs. Smoot's home, for funeral services, it was announced at the home.

Mrs. Smoot was born August 6, 1863, at Salt Lake City, Utah, and was educated at private school and the Deseret University. She married Senator Smoot September 17, 1884. She is survived by six children, Harold R. Smoot, Chloe Smoot Cardon, Annie K. Rebentisch, Harlow E. Smoot, Zelia Ester Nibley and Ernest W. Smoot.

G. O. P. NOMINEE HAS 440 ELECTORAL VOTES WITH MANY STATES IN DOUBT

Solid South Is Broken Up When Democratic Standard Bearer Carries Only 6 States

UTAH IS STILL DOUBTFUL

(By United Press)

NEW YORK, Nov. 7.—Herbert Hoover will enter the White House next March 4 with the greatest popular support ever given a president of the United States. Returns tabulated up to 3 p. m. today by the United Press gave him 17,196,186 votes in yesterday's election, compared with 12,377,527 for his Democratic opponent, Alfred E. Smith. Perhaps 25 percent of the vote still was to be counted.

On the face of returns Smith carried only Alabama, Arkansas, Georgia, Louisiana, Massachusetts, Rhode Island, South Carolina and Mississippi, for a total of 87 electoral votes.

Utah still was doubtful, with Hoover leading 49,202 to 43,471 after 346 of the state's 819 precincts had been heard from.

Even without Utah Hoover had 440 electoral votes, 36 more than Harding's previous record of 404 in 1920. With Utah he would have 444.

Smith by polling as many votes as he did seemed to have made Democrats grow where none grew before, but these were swallowed up in the throngs of Republican balloters at the polls yesterday.

It will be days before the complete story of the voting can be told. It will take that long to obtain returns from certain remote precincts in several states. But these isolated districts cannot affect the fact that the United States dizzily broke records in one of the strangest elections ever held and overwhelmingly chose Hoover to be inaugurated president next March 4.

In only two southern states did Hoover fail to register an impressive vote—South Carolina and Louisiana. He has carried the entire border including Maryland, Kentucky, Tennessee, Missouri and Aklahoma.

His victory in Virginia and his close race in Florida and Texas surpassed all expectations on the part of his managers. They had hoped to get North Carolina but lost that.

While Smith had no victories to his credit in the farm belt, he registered an impressive vote in some states, particularly in Illinois. In Nebraska, however, even the help of Senator Norris failed to bring him within hailing distance of Hoover. And in progressive Wisconsin, the combined efforts of the LaFollette forces, failed to protect him against a heavy Hoover vote.

Senator Heflin failed to carry Alabama for Hoover, but held Smith to a fairly close lead.

Pennsylvania, upon which Democratic national Chairman Raskob built high hopes and spent much

Hoover Landslide, However, Leaves Balance With Insurgents

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON
I. N. S. Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, Nov. 7.—The Hoover landslide carried a Republican senate into the new congress, cost the Democrats six seats, possibly more, but left the "balance of power" in the hands of the famous insurgent bloc.

The new senate will line up, probably, on next March 5 when President Hoover summons the seventy-first congress into special session, with 55 Republicans, 39 Democrats and 1 Farmer-Laborite present. This will compare favorably, from a Republican standpoint, to the lineup of 47 Republicans, 46 Democrats, 1 Farmer-Laborite and 2 vacancies, when the present senate adjourned last June.

The six seats lost by the Democrats included the defeats of Senators Thomas F. Bayard in Delaware, Senator William Cabell Bruce, of Maryland, Edward I. Edwards in New Jersey, Peter G. Gerry in Rhode Island and C. C. Dill in Washington, along with Graham P. Hunt, who won the Democratic nomination from Senator Cyrus E. Locher in Ohio. All Republican senators were reelected.

Of the 34 senatorial seats contested, 19 were won outright by the Republicans, 11 by the Democrats, one by the Farmer-Laborite, Henrik Shipstead, in Minne-

DENEEN GROUP WINS POLITICAL PRESTIGE

CHICAGO, Nov. 7.—(UP)—The Republican group headed by United States Senator Charles S. Deneen, which won national notice by defeating the Crowe-Thompson faction in the April primary, heightened its political prestige in Chicago today with a victory for its candidate for state's attorney.

That important Chicago past was won by Judge John A. Swanson, who eliminated State's Attorney Robert E. Crowe in the gang ridden primary last April.

Crowe and Mayor William Hale Thompson were said to have thrown their support to the Democratic candidate, Judge William J. Lindsay, who lost by a narrow margin. The contest was in doubt until long after midnight.

Coolidge Sends Hoover His Best Wishes

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7.—(U P)—President Coolidge today sent congratulatory messages to President Elect Hoover and Vice President Elect Charles Curtis.

His message to Hoover read:

"The success of our party with your election to the presidency and the endorsement of the administration are a great satisfaction to me. With this indorsement I can now retire from office in contentment. I send you my most cordial congratulations on your victory, and to yourself and Mrs. Hoover my best wishes, in which Mrs. Coolidge joins."

449 ELECTORAL VOTES HELD BY HOOVER

each, was running ten to six for Hoover.

The close senatorial contests included those of Walsh of Massachusetts, Wheeler of Montana, Gerry of Rhode Island, Kendrick of Wyoming, and Hay of Missouri. Hay and Gerry were lagging behind in the early morning returns, while Walsh, Wheeler and Kendrick were clinging to narrowing margins.

Fourteen republican and eight democratic incumbents pulled safely through the cyclone of ballots stirred up by the Hoover landslide, a disturbance which blew first one candidate and then another along unexpected paths.

Copeland of New York was an example. At 10 p. m. yesterday he seemed a beaten man because Gov. Alfred E. Smith, the greatest vote getter this state ever had, was buried in an avalanche under which none of his democratic colleagues could be believed to have survived. But there was a chance in the official county upstate, unforeseen trend against Smith toward Copeland in New York City and Copeland awoke this morning to find himself conceded the senatorship.

The Copeland case is not unique, the same ever-changing battle was being waged in most of the key states where democratic senators were up for re-election.

Before sunset Texas may also also join the bolters. With some 25 counties missing this morning, Hoover was maintaining a 10,000 lead over Smith in the Lone Star state, and in view of the dimensions of the republican sweep elsewhere in the south there seemed to be little reason to doubt that Hoover would also get those 20 electoral votes to add to his already unbelievable total.

By way of compensation, however, Rhode Island's five electoral votes drifted over into the Smith column this morning by a scant 2000 majority.

Without Texas, Hoover has an electoral total of 424 as against 87 for Governor Smith. With the 20 from Texas it soars to 444, a high record for all time. Even in 1912, the year of the republican split and the democratic landslide, Woodrow Wilson only garnered 435 electoral votes, and eight years ago, in 1920, when the late Warren G. Harding cycloned through the nation the republican total was only 404.

The overnight shifts disclose that, giving Texas to Hoover, only eight states gave their electoral vote to Governor Smith—Massachusetts and Rhode Island in the north, both by scanty margins, and Alabama, Arkansas, Georgia, Mississippi, Louisiana, and South Carolina, in the south.

Two of the metropolises of the south, Atlanta and Birmingham, went republican for the first time in their history.

BLACK EYE WORTH $100, SAYS COURT

SAN JOSE, Calif., Nov. 7.—(UP)—The price of a black eye has been officially fixed in San Jose at $100.

And that does not mean you can go out and purchase a discolored optic for that sum. Its just the other way around in fact. In the case in question two prominent citizens were involved.

It seems that Carl Crosby, general manager of the east side county water district, and J. P. Lacreda became embroiled during a directors' meeting at which Lacreda asked the board to oust Crosby. The climax, or perhaps the finale, came when Crosby poked Lacedra in the eye.

Lacreda immediately hailed Crosby into the court of Justice C. I. Whitten on a battery charge. The defendant pleaded guilty and was fined the $100.

Where He Got It Is Secret Still

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 7.—(UP)—Summoned before Superior Judge Leon E. Gray, Charles Vitt, charged with intoxication, refused to trade the name fo his bootlegger for immunity from fine.

"Tell me who your bootlegger is and I'll have him pay your fine," suggested the judge.

"If there is any fine, I'll pay it the best I can," replied Vitt, a Spanish War veteran. He intimated he would rather go to jail.

Judge Gray referred the case to the probation officer.

Government Cost Figured Closely

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Nov. 7.—(UP)—It costs California citizens exactly $19.95 a second to operate their city, county and state governments, a compilation by the state controller's office shows.

During the last fiscal year taxpayers spent $1,136.40 a minute, and approximately $71,784 an hour through the officials of their city, county and state governments. The combined expenditures for the year totaled $629,225,108.33, the statement showed.

McPherson Probe Figure Called By L. A. Grand Jury

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 7.—Miss Beulah Wilson, a figure in the Aimee Semple McPherson kidnaping probe, was to go today before the grand jury now investigating the asserted bribery of District Attorney Asa Keyes.

The witness acted as a personal body guard to Mrs. Lorraine Wiseman-Seilaff, the Miss "X" of the Mrs. McPherson case. The calling of Miss Wilson gave rise to the humor that the dismissal of charges against Mrs. McPherson was to be investigated.

NORTH CAROLINA FOR REPUBLICAN LEADER

RALEIGH, N. C., Nov. 7.—(UP)—Herbert Hoover went into the lead in North Carolina, as returns from the state's 1751 precincts neared completion.

The vote early today showed a Hoover majority of approximately 9000.

The Democratic state ticket, including congressmen, remained in the lead by a safe margin.

The yawn was a complete success until Graham sought to close his jaws. He discovered they had locked.

The victim managed to attract attention of others to his plight and he was taken to a hospital where physicians restored the jaw to normalcy.

The county seemed to look with disfavor on the proposal for reorganization of the state department of education: the measure allowing municipalities and the state to acquire interests in water companies; and number 20, allowing defendants to waive jury trials, seemed to have lost.

Number 11, providing for regulation of courts; number 15, providing for increasing jurors' fees; and number 16 on stockholders' liability changes, appeared to be doubtful.

The passage of both propositions 12 and 19, providing for state aid to the physically handicapped and the blind, might result in both being nullified, according to some observers. Both are amendments to the same article of the constitution and in other states the passage of two such proposals has been held to nullify both.

RED BLUFF, Calif., Nov. 7.—(UP)—Fred A. Ellenwood, vice president of the National Wool Growers' association, nearly made a "birdie" in a golf game here the other day.

While the mother bird perched on a nearby limb and scolded, Ellenwood managed to rattle the ball out of the nest, and sank a three-par hole in eight.

CARE OF INSANE RUSSIAN PROBLEM

MOSCOW, Nov. 7.—Russia has encountered a serious problem in caring for her insane citizens.

There are only 77 asylums in the whole country, with accommodations for 21,103 persons. The public health authorities say that there are five times that number of lunatics in Russia who ought to be locked up.

Money for this purpose is hard to obtain in Russia and some of the existing asylums need repairs. There are no funds available for building new ones. The state finds it difficult to retain the 11,000 employes who care for inmates.

Their dormitory facilities are crowded and working conditions are far from attractive. Many have quit their jobs on the ground that they could not work longer without losing their own minds.

GOV. AL SMITH TAKES DEFEAT WITH A SMILE

BY RAYMOND I. BORST
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

NEW YORK, Nov. 7.—Governor Al Smith took defeat with a smile. The "happy warrior" went down before the Republican landslide but he didn't lose his keen sense of humor.

There was just a wee twinkle in his eyes when he stood in a small room at the national Democratic headquarters shortly before one o'clock this morning and dictated a telegram heartily congratulating Herbert Hoover, the president-elect.

But those who know Governor Smith well could tell that his heart was heavy despite his reassuring smile. He really had been confident up to the minute the returns started to come in that he would be elected president. It was a hard blow when he found he had been badly beaten, but it was a harder blow when his own state turned him down.

The governor gave out the following brief statement relative to his defeat.

"The American people have rendered their decision. I am a Democrat and I firmly believe in the rule of the majority.

"I have had a long career in elective public office. Yesterday was the twenty-first time that my name appeared on the ballot in New York state. I am happy and content to taking my place as a high private in the ranks of American citizens. I have a heart full of gratitude to all the people who worked so untireingly to promote my candidacy and to all those who cast their ballots for me."

Questioned as to what business he expects to engage in when he returns to take up his home in New York after laying aside the reins of the state government on January 1, the governor said:

"I must thing about that because that requires some thought."

Pausing a moment while a smile spread over his face the governor added, "at any rate, I am going to work." When he was asked if he had any regrets about the campaign he replied:

"I have only pleasant memories of the campaign."

Smiling again, the governor added: "The figures of the election indicate that only one man ever got more votes than I did."

"Who was that, Governor?" asked one of the reporters.

"Why, Mr. Hoover, of course," he said as he leaned back with a hearty laugh.

The governor then was asked where he would live when he returns to New York City.

"That decision will be made by the boss of the house," he said as he smiled at Mrs. Smith who stood in the doorway.

The governor plans to take a short motor trip around the city later this afternoon.

"Howk is your appetite?" he was asked.

"Well," he replied, "it's not so bad. I had chicken livers and fish for breakfast."

Smith said he never again would be a candidate for a public office.

HOOVER'S LEAD IN CALIFORNIA NEARS 400,000

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 7.—Herbert Hoover's lead over Al Smith in California passed the 300,000 mark early today, with all indications pointing to the unprecedented presidential majority of 600,000 by nightfall, if the state's vote was correctly set in estimates of 2,000,000.

The California "home stater" made sweeping gains during the night over his Democratic opponent, cutting deeply into the Smith edge in San Francisco and piling up an even larger margin of majority in many other sections of the state.

The vote stood: Hoover 702,871; Smith 371,857.

The Hoover majority with 5394 precincts incomplete, totals 331,014 out of 1,074,728 tabulated.

In Los Angeles county, where Hoover received by far his greatest majority, the vote was Hoover 371,196; Smith 149,379.

Alameda county gave Hoover 77,762; Smith 39,916.

In San Francisco, Smith was leading by 2,365 votes, with Hoover 90,196; Smith 93,061.

United States Senator Hiram W. Johnson, still confined to his home as the result of a sudden attack of influenza yesterday, was piling up the greatest plurality ever given a California senator. His vote:

Johnson 266,587; Moore 63,902.

MISSIONARY IS KEPT CAPTIVE FOR 18 DAYS

BY EDWARD HUNTER

United Press Staff Correspondent

HANKOW, Nov. 7.—(UP)—Haggard and sore of body after 18 days of captivity in a tiny, filthy, windowless hut, Monsignor George Froewis has been returned to the Catholic Mission of Sinyangchow, a small city in the interior of bandit-ridden Honan Province.

The bandits who had demanded $50,000, 36 pistols and a huge quantity of opium, finally were forced to be content with about $400, and this sum was granted only to save them from the worst of all Chinese penalties, the loss of "face."

The 64-year-old missionary, who has spent 35 years of his life in China, went under hardships which would have killed many a younger man not accustomed to Chinese conditions. During his captivity, with but a brief interval, he was closely guarded in his windowless hut, so dark that he could not tell the difference between day and night. The hovel in which he was kept was filthy beyond description and the terrific heat of a Honan summer was at its height during his entire captivity.

For six days in succession, thrice a day, he received for nourishment a bowl of hot water, in which slim elongated soda biscuits fried in oil, which the Chinese call yu kuo-tse, were left to soak. He was given nothing else to eat. He had no change of clothing throughout his captivity, despite the heat which kept his attire wringing wet with perspiration.

The captors of the Monsignor are connected with the local militia, stationed at one of the market towns between this city and a small village not far away, revealing the ease with which soldiers turn to banditry and bandits turn to soldiery. On the night of the capture the aged missionary was treated to brutalities. The release of Monsignor Froewis was obtained without military assistance, as it was feared this would react against the aged captive. The missionaries at Sinyang determined to request military help only as a last resort. They feared not only for the capture, but for the lives of the many innocent people living in the village which it would have been necessary to raid.

The Catholic Mission attributes much of the success of the rescue to Yong Kwang Yu, head of the Sinyang Chamber of Commerce. This aged man, a personal friend of the prelate's, commissioned two relatives of his to go into the bandit-ridden country in search of clues regarding the whereabout of the missionary. They worked tirelessly for 12 days, until they finally discovered the party which had done the kidnaping.

They were successful in capturing one of the bandits implicated. A threat to deliver him to the authorities brought him to terms. In order to retain a minimum of "face," he pleaded that at least $1000 should be handed to his bandit comrades as remuneration "for the hospitality tendered to the old foreign gentleman during his sojourn."

After a considerable amount of bargaining, the amount was finally reduced to $400, and given to Yang Kwang-yu as a token of friendship. He paid this over to the bandits. This round-about method was taken so that the bandits could not declare that the money was paid directly by the missionaries, as the loss of "face" would have been disastrous in future cases of this sort.

The promise also was made to the missionaries that after the captive was set free, no steps should be taken by the missionaries for the arrest of the bandits. However, whatever measures the provincial authorities may eventually take to rid Honan of bandits were not involved.

WATER PLANS DISCUSSED BY STATE OFFICES

By ED JOHNSON
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
(Special to The Register)

SACRAMENTO, No. 10—A state-wide "co-ordination plan" which provides for irrigating arid sections of Central and Southern California with surplus water from the north, appeared to bear fruition today with definite plans submitted for financing the first project.

All through the discussion of this ambitious and gigantic program, the Kennett dam on the Sacramento river has been considered the "Typical" unit." That is to say, what works for Kennett in a large measure will work for the rest of the proposed dams and reservoirs.

These financing plans, submitted by State Engineer Edward Hyatt to B. S. Crittenden of the legislative water resources committee, were drawn up by Lester S. Ready, a consulting engineer, and included programs from absolute state control, ownership and operation to the same program from a private source.

They were:

1. Reservoir, dam and power plant financed and operated by private capital.
2. Reservoir and dam financed and operated by the state; power plant operated by private capital; use of water for generation of power sold by state to private interests financing the power plant.
3. Reservoir, dam and power plant and main trunk transmission lines to important load centers in Northern California financed and operated by the state; power wholesaled at sub-stations to political sub-stations and privately owned utilities.
4. Reservoir, dam and power plant financed and operated by the state; the power output wholesaled at the power plant.
5. Reservoir, dam and power plant main trunk transmission lines and sub-stations, steam standby plants and general secondary transmission and distribution systems financed and operated by the state; power retailed to the general public.

While state officials so far have not seen fit to say they like any one of the plans to the exclusion of the other four, Bert B. Meek, director of the department of public works, made the following statement to the United Press:

"Since the Kennett project involves both navigation and flood control, it is my opinion that federal aid should be given to its development."

CHEVROLET

CONSTANT EXPANSION
—to serve Chevrolet owners better

SINCE January 1st more than a million new Chevrolets have been delivered to owners—making the Chevrolet Motor Company, for the second consecutive year, the world's largest builder of automobiles!

This outstanding achievement has been attained not only because of the quality and value of Chevrolet cars—but also because there has been a constant expansion of Chevrolet service facilities.

In order to bring the mammoth resources of the Chevrolet factories to Chevrolet dealers and owners everywhere, there have been erected 26 huge parts warehouses in the principal centers of distribution. This expansion program is continually going on—for four great additional warehouses will be in operation by January first and seven more by the summer of 1929.

Into the service departments of all Chevrolet dealers, Chevrolet has brought special tools and shop equipment—designed under the supervision of Chevrolet engineers. This equipment definitely assures maximum speed and precision and the lowest possible cost in the performance of every service and repair operation—which are charged for on a flat rate basis.

Furthermore, all of these tremendous facilities have been made available to 15,000 authorized service stations manned by skilled mechanics—over 25,000 of whom, have been factory trained to efficiently handle every repair operation on a Chevrolet car. In addition, there are over 4,000 other points where genuine Chevrolet parts may be obtained.

Uniformly efficient, uniformly reliable and within easy reach of everybody everywhere—this great service organization is maintaining at peak efficiency the fine performance for which Chevrolet cars have always been renowned.

We cordially invite you to come in and see how our service department reflects the influence of this great national service program. We know you will be convinced that no group of owners in this community enjoys more definite assurance of continued satisfaction than those who drive Chevrolet cars.

TRAINED BAND OF SIKHS LOSE COURT TUSSLE

SHANGHAI, Nov. 7.—(UP)—The American consular court was thrown into an uproar when 13 turbaned, solemn and be-whiskered Sikhs attempted to testify simultaneously. The Sikhs, all watchmen for a local steamship company, were in court charging the steamship concern with discharging them without due notice and withholding their wages.

Sidney A. Moss, American attorney, represented the Sikhs and made a spectacular entrance into court at the head of the column of Indians.

Wazir Singh, chief of the watchmen, took the witness stand.

"Did the company pay you in full when you were discharged?" quiered Moss.

"No, she did not," replied Wazir. At the same time 12 other Sikhs, still wearing their turbans, replied in the same vein.

United States Commissioner A. Krisel expostulated. So did the court stenographer, the United States deputy marshal and the attorney for the steamship company.

"One witness at a time," cautioned the commissioner.

Wazir Singh nodded agreement. An even dozen other Sikhs nodded.

"How much money does the company owe you?" asked Moss.

"Thirty-five dollars," replied 13 Sikhs in unison.

Commissioner Krisel rapped loudly on the judicial bench. The matter, he said, had gone far enough. From now on only one person was to reply.

"Yes, sahib," remarked Wazir. Twelve other Sikhs nodded their approval.

Moss put three more questions to Wazir. Thirteen replies were made to each. The exasperated commissioner cleared the courtroom of all but one Sikh—none other than Wazir himself. The case went peacefully on. The Sikhs lost.

When Pain Comes

Two hours after eating

What many people call indigestion very often means excess acid in the stomach. The stomach nerves have been over-stimulated and food sours. The corrective is an alkali, which neutralizes acids instantly. And the best alkali known to medical science is Phillips' Milk of Magnesia. It has remained the standard with physicians in the 50 years since its invention.

One spoonful of this harmless, tasteless alkali in water will neutralize instantly many times as much acid, and the symptoms disappear at once. You will never use crude methods when once you learn the efficiency of this. Go get a small bottle to try.

Be sure you get the genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia prescribed by physicians for 50 years in correcting excess acids. 25c and 50s a bottle—any drugstore.

"Milk of Magnesia" has been the U. S. Registered Trade Mark of The Charles H. Phillips Chemical Company and its predecessor Charles H. Phillips since 1875.—Adv.

No disorder among the vast number of people here marred the success of the affair, largely due to the order maintained by members of the force along the line of march, it was said by Nelson and Reid.

The recent meeting of the Woman's club was a very enjoyable one and also profitable for several members. The hostess, Mrs. Dale Trapp, now has three comforts ready to use and those present also tied one each for Mrs. John Osterman and Mrs. Levi Gockley. The lunch provided by the members was thoroughly enjoyed at one long table decorated in Hallowe'en colors. Many lovely chrysanthemums were used in decorating the hall. Plans for the annual bazaar on November 24 were talked over, many of the articles to be sold were on display.

Those present for the meeting were Mrs. John Osterman, Mrs. Foster Prather, Mrs. Levi Gockley, Mrs. Rebecca James, Mrs. Marville Lineberg, Mrs. Ivy Thompson, Mrs. H. A. Froehlich, Mrs. Alf Trapp, Mrs. George Osterman, Mrs. R. B. Waterman, Mrs. Warren Gray, Mrs. C. E. Scott, Mrs. Bennie Osterman, Mrs. Walter Tait and Mrs. George Fox.

Apples, candy and peanuts were served to all. The teachers had been aided in their preparations by the girls of the eighth grade.

Mrs. C. D. Harvey, who was injured last Thursday night, when the car in which she was riding collided with a wagon near here, is in a Los Angeles hospital in a very serious condition. She suffered a broken jaw and a broken leg. Louie Carisoza, who was injured in the same accident, returned to his home Friday and is pregressing very satisfactorily. A scalp wound required nine stitches. The car was wrecked.

Robert Harris narrowly escaped injury Friday night, when the coupe in which he was riding hit some soft sand near the railroad track and turned upside down. Young Harris, however, was able to crawl out of the car and summoned help to right the machine. The car was slightly damaged.

Mr. and Mrs. Bennie Osterman attended the Stanford-U. S. C. football game in Los Angeles Saturday.

If some one tells you that he saw it in the Register's Classified section, it was well advertised. Phone 87.

SUGAR IMPROVES FRUIT FLAVORS

Makes these healthful foods delightful to the taste

The human body needs fruits, to be well-fed and healthy, and each person should eat at least one raw and one cooked fruit each day. Here are the health-giving elements that fruits bring to us: needed roughage, fruit vitamines, mineral salts, and beneficial fruit acids.

And, thanks to sugar, fruits can also be beneficial in another way. The harsh or sour acids, by being sweetened to taste, can be turned into delightful flavors that add enjoyment to eating. As a famous food scientist states it, "The fruit acids are softened by sugar. The fruit flavors are developed by sugar. Sugar promotes and facilitates the ingestion of fruits."

There are few people in the world who do not relish the delicious flavors of orange and grapefruit salad, sweetened to taste. One of the most welcome beverages to any palate is hot lemonade.

And remember that stewed fresh apples or pears or stewed dried peaches, prunes or apricots are excellent for breakfast. For dinner, think of apple sauce with pork, and cranberry sauce with any kind of roast fowl or meat. Baked apples or pears and fruit pies are delicious, as well as healthful, for dessert.

Eating should be enjoyable as well as healthful. The use of sugar, on raw fruits and in cooking, is the friend of food enjoyment. The Sugar Institute.

Late News From Orange County Communities

Work On Orange Theater To Commence In December

SAYS DRIVERS CAN'T CHOOSE THEIR NUMBERS

ORANGE, Nov. 7. — Motorists who like to pick and choose the license numbers for their cars probably will be disappointed this year, according to D. A. Martin, in charge of the local office of the Automobile Club of Southern California.

Word has been received from headquarters, says Martin, stating that numbers will be given applicants in rotation and if they get the number they want as it comes along, well and good, otherwise they will have to be satisfied with the one that is given them.

A number of people, Martin says, like to have numbers with which they are familiar. Others like to have the same number year after year. Some don't like the number "13." The latter number Martin does not fear, having three on his own license.

C. OF C. WORKER DELIVERS TALK IN PLACENTIA

PLACENTIA, Nov. 7. — Lewis Livingston, of Los Angeles, member of the United States Chamber of Commerce, who is credited with making the Lions club an international organization, was speaker of the day at the Placentia Chamber of Commerce meeting Tuesday.

Leon T. Gillilan and M. Hall of the American Legion post were introduced and spoke of the aims and ideals of the Legion.

The matter of stop signs on Madison avenue was brought forward. James Tuffree, Winthrop Bowen and William Bielefeldt were in favor of these signs, while Ralph McFadden and Frank Rospaw were decidedly against it.

A motion was made and carried that the supervisors be interviewed in regard to having stop signs placed at the intersections of Madison and Bradford, Alta Vista and Kraemer and Kraemer and Chapman, and to remove those now at Orangethrop and Dowling, and Jalm and Valencia.

Mehrgut was treated at the Johnson-Wickett clinic in Anaheim for slight injuries, Bowen escaping unharmed.

TUSTIN

TUSTIN, Nov. 7.—The regular monthly social and business meeting of the Presbyterian Ladies' Aid society was held Friday afternoon in the home of Mrs. C. L. Hallett. This was a special meeting of Thanksgiving, prayer and praise. The women in charge of repairs at the manse reported that the kitchen had been painted and varnished and the floor laid with new linoleum for Mrs. Shiffler, away for her health and expects to return in time to vote. Committees were appointed for conducting the bazaar in December.

Those present were Mrs. C. H. Whitney, Mrs. A. Thorman, Mrs. C. P. Marshall, Mrs. G. W. Hatfield, Mrs. W. L. Leihy, Mrs. Oscar Leihy, Mrs. R. E. Carswell, Mrs. H. M. Robertson, Mrs. Perry Lewis, Mrs. Fred Conover, Mrs. Bears, Mrs. W. S. Suddaby, Mrs. Wm. Satterwhite, Mrs. Bertha McMillan, Mrs. Dickson, Mrs. W. L. Shatto, Mrs. K. C. The Tustin grammar school teachers were entertained at a Hallowe'en party last week by members of the faculty, C. A. Weise., Mr. Gaylord and Mr. Hoke, at the home of Mrs. William Pannier, a sister of Mrs. Weise in Anaheim. A delicious course supper was served on the lawn by Mrs. Weise and Mrs. Gaylord. As the chill of night came on, refuge was sought in a large barn, but grewsome wet hands and bats wings were the only things encountered before lights could be procured. A dim light revealed witches, whosts and owls. Games carried the jollification to a late hour.

The regular meeting of the Pythian Sisters temple Thursday evening was confined to a brief session so that the Knights might meet.

The occasion was a visit from the supreme vice chancellor, Leslie E. Crouch, of Portland, Ore. Other out of town guests were A. R. Schottsky, grand chancellor of the California domain; W. M. Neibel, deputy grand chancellor; Lee D. Matthews, grand vice chancellor, and wife, of Los Angeles. Mayor Crawford gave a welcoming address and other officers of the home lodge greeted the visitors, James B. Utt, presiding. After singing America and a salute to the flag, Hugh Runnels sang "Silvia" and "The Little Stars of Duna," accompanied by Miss Carroll.

HANSON BUYS SAN CLEMENTE WEEKLY PAPER

SAN CLEMENTE, Nov. 7—El Heraldo de San Clemente, weekly paper of the Spanish village is now the property of Ole Hanson, founder and builder of this city. Ole Hanson bought the paper outright from J. Harmon Caskey and Tod Bates, owners and publishers. The new publisher has appointed George Scherck as editor and business manager and retained Caskey as associate editor.

El Heraldo de San Clemente was established on December 2, 1926, by D. B. McDonald, who engaged Caskey as editor and publisher. It was Caskey who was responsible for the appearance of the first edition of the new Orange county weekly.

On January 1, 1927, F. W. Mitchell and Tod Bates purchased the paper from the original owner and these two men published the weekly for the next two months. Then Caskey bought out Mitchell's interests and became editor, with Bates as business manager.

Bates and Caskey conducted the paper until October 30, when Hanson took complete charge of the publication.

Scherck has been a newspaper man for the past ten years, eight of those years in the service of the Hearst organization.

STOP SIGNS SOUGHT FOR THOROUGHFARE

PLACENTIA, Nov. 7.—As an aftermath of the accident in Placentia in which William Mahrgut was injured when his car collided with one driven by Winthrop Bowen, Tom Pickerell presented the situation to the city council and told of the efforts of the chamber of commerce to have stop signs put at the intersection of Madison and Bradford avenues, where the collision occurred.

Bradford avenue is the main road leading north from Placentia while Madison avenue is but a short street and should have stop signs placed on it, it was declared.

Frank Rospaw, editor of the Placentia Courier, took the opposite side, stating that there are far too many stop signs now.

Arrangements were made to have a city engineer set grades for a sidewalk on the east side of Melrose street between Santa Fe and Center streets.

It has been suggested that the various clubs and organizations in the city band together to stage an entertainment for the benefit of the beautification program. CITY EMPLOYES WIN BALL GAME OFF CLUB. 23-9

NEWPORT BEACH, Nov. 7—City hall employes yesterday trounced the championship Exchange club baseball team by a score of 23 to 9. The game was a nine inning affair and was played on the grammar school grounds. The Exchange club spotted the city employes to an 11 run lead in the first inning, when Captain Charles Way started a bunch of his third string players. The Exchange club rapped out four run in its half of the inning.

After the first inning the game tightened up but the Exchange members were only able to push over five more runs while the city workers knocked in 12.

The game leaves the city employes the only undefeated team in Newport Beach. The local boys will tangle Armistice day with the Costa Mesa Lumber company team, the only undefeated team in the Costa Mesa section.

SANTA MONICA MAN SIGNS FOR ELTISTE HOUSE

ORANGE, Nov. 7.—Arrangements have been completed for finishing the Adams theater here, it was announced yesterday by M. Eltiste, who came into possession of the property some time ago. A 10-year lease has been signed, it became known, whereby C. L. Langley, of Santa Monica, will add the local house to a chain of playhouses he owns.

Langley recently completed two theaters, one in San Bernardino and one at El Centro and has four more under construction.

It is planned to spend $55,000 on the house in finishing the exterior and about $40,000 in stage equipment, chairs and furnishings. It is expected that work will begin on the theater the first of the month and that it will be completer by the first of April.

When finished the house will seat 1100 and will be equipped for the presentation of prologues and vaudeville. A total of $60,000 has already been put into construction work on the theater and the future operations will bring the cost of the playhouse to nearly $155,000.

The other side of an amazing story you may have read in the newspapers — the tremendous true story of a famous star of the stage. Beautiful and alluring, loved by thousands — then shamed, and publicly spurned by the man who did not know he owed her everything!

Loved, until—?

Disgrace! She heard them crying it out in the streets — and she knew that every household was reveling in the news of her shame. For her it was like a city of flames. Where were they now — the men who had adored her, the women who had openly envied her fascination?

But surely, down at the theatre she would find friends—kinder hearts that understood her own, knowing that in her artist's nature there was no middle ground between wisdom and passion.

Yes—one! One friend—her loyal understudy who tells this vivid story. She understood, yet never dreamed what a bitter part she, too, would have to play.

Never dreamed that the brilliant young actor whom she loved, who lashed the ruined actress with terrible insults — was speaking to the woman who loved him perhaps even more!

NEW NEBRASKA STATE CAPITOL SOON FINISHED

LINCOLN, Neb., Nov. 5.—(UP)—Nebraska has brought her new ten million dollar capitol nearly to completion. Six years after construction was begun the building lacks only 60 feet of tower and several acres of landscaping.

The "pay-as-you-go" plan was adopted with the capitol, which was designed to be one of the finest in America. The legislature assessed a "capitol levy," which taxpayers have been paying since the building was started.

This year the legislature will be asked to levy again for the building as only $8,000,000 was raised by the first assessment. With $2,000,000 more money and two years more time the capitol commission predicts the project will be completed.

For practical purposes the structure already is finished. All the state's offices now are located in the building, the main part of which consists of two floors, spread over an area of nearly 200,000 square feet.

The building is 437 feet square. In the center are four courtyards that make natural lighting possible in each of the offices. From the center rises the tower that still is incomplete. The pinnacle will be 400 feet high.

If your town's not on the map,
Keep a boostin';
When all others knock and rap,
Keep a boostin';
Towns aren't built by folks who nap,
But by makin' good things hap;
What if it does take a scrap?
Keep a boostin';

When it seem it can't be done.
Keep a fightin';
Once a struggle has begun,
Keep on fightin';
When the foe gets on the run,
Then the battle's dang nigh won.
Quittin'?—Heck that ain't no fun,
Keep on fightin'.

If the other fellow crys,
You keep smilin';
Give him help, and sympathize.
Get him smilin';
If you would be happy, wise,
Let me urge, insist, advise,
Try this daily exercise,
Keep a smilin'.

SANTA ANA, Nov. 7.—The old time practice of borrowing the neighbor's newspaper has stopped in Orange county. Repeated unsuccessful attempts to borrow The Register have not been due to any act of discourtesy on the part of the neighbors, but because they have been busy reading it themselves.

THE NEWS AS IT STRIKES US

An election is an American institution that changes some of the candidates into also-rans.

Mr. Hoover came out for a full gas tank, but he didn't say anything about paid-up instalments on the car.

What we can't understand is why the Presidential candidates fought so hard to be the head of a government in which the people themselves rule.

"BREA WOMEN'S CLUB DECRYS BILLBOARDS"—Head-line. Fine! What else could a women's club do when the billboard problem is placed before it? Now what organization will be next? Step right in line. California is several years behind in this movement already. So far as THE FUMIGATOR knows the action against billboards came from the Brea Women's Club voluntarily and without any direct persuasion. That makes it more noble than ever. Brea always was an enterprising, alert community. In many ways you've got to take off your brown derby. She's oil right.

A survey of milk gives the dairies of Orange county a high rating, which proves that Orange county's cows are contented and know their onions.

We knew we were getting into a nest of Republicans when we came to Orange county, but the height of partisanism was disclosed the other day when an Orange county man refused to buy a "Smith" typewriter from Bob Fernandez. But our version is that he associated a typewriter with "Keyes."

Scientists at the University of California are trying to develop a new fruit. We wish they'd first try to develop something besides cull oranges at the local fruit stands.

We'r, right with Horace Fine on his proposal to repeal the speed limit only the drivers themselves long ago repealed it. It is a case of the State having its law and the motorists having their speed.

The landscape is no place for advertising. The rural billboard and ugly sign are public nuisances. The National Real Estate Association has said: "The natural beauty of our country is a natural heritage to be conserved. It is a community possession, and no individual and no corporation has the right to despoil the natural scenic beauty of the land for private profit."

GEE WHIZ! NOTHING TO DO NOW TILL THANKSGIVIN', IF WE DON'T DO ANYTHING ARMISTICE DAY. Moral: Attend the Armistice Day celebration at Orange next Monday. The boys didn't hesitate to go over to Europe for you. You can at least go as far as Orange for them.

Loosen Up Colds With Musterole

Have Musterole handy when a cold starts. It has all of the advantages of grandmothers' mustard plaster without the burn. You feel a warm tingle as the healing ointment penetrates the pores, then a soothing, cooling sensation and quick relief.

Made of pure oil of mustard and other simple ingredients, Musterole is recommended by many nurses and doctors. Try Musterole for bronchitis, sore throat, stiff neck, pleurisy, rheumatism, lumbago, croup, asthma, neuralgia, congestion, pains and aches of the back or joints, sore muscles, sprains, bruises, chilblains, frosted feet, colds of the chest. It may prevent pneumonia and "flu."

At the first sign of a cold in the head take Musterole Cold Tablets. They usually give prompt relief.

Three Great Baseball Stars Near End Of Careers

COBB RETIRES: SPEAKER TO BE NEWARK LEADER

BY DAVIS J. WALSH
I.N.S. Sports Editor)

NEW YORK, Nov. 7.—On or about November 15, announcement probably will be made to the effect that one of three great names in all the lore of modern baseball has written itself into the comparative obscurity that goes with a minor league contract.

The first of the great trinity, Ty Cobb, probably will retire to a life of ease and refinement after 23 dazzling seasons in the major leagues. Another has been given to understand that he can have a job with the New York Yankees. The third, Tris Speaker, virtually has committed himself, they say, to managing the Newark club of the International league, Walter Johnson's spot before he was called to the home of his fathers, or something in Washington.

Speaker in a minor league uniform!

Just a bit difficult to visualize. The Grey Eagle, they call him, and if a real eagle were to perch on the limb of a rose bush, he would present a picture no more incongruous than Tris Speaker in the minor leagues. It only goes to prove again that success, even at its ultimate, is a fargile document.

Money couldn't have bought this man in 1920 when he managed the world champion Cleveland Indians and played center field as no one ever has played it. He had the world by the throat then and virtually a permanent job was assured him in Cleveland, even after the inevitable moment when the hands of life's time clock were to overtake him. Fate, in the form of innuendo and unproved charges against the probity of both Speaker and Cobb, beat the clock to it.

They were exonerated of the charges and, while Cobb admittedly was in the sunset of his playing life and, therefore, wasn't expected to play a great deal of baseball for anybody, Speaker generally was regarded as a genuine asset. He had been slipping but the descent was gracefully gradual. Cobb, at the time, actually had removed himself from the Detroit lineup in favor of a younger man.

Yet it was Cobb, rather than Speaker, who rallied from the shock of their joint tribulations. The latter, as a matter of fact, wasn't half the man he apparently had been a few, short months before and his descent from successful playing-manager in 1926, to indifferent outfielder in Washington in 1927 to the bench of the Philadelphia Athletics in 1928 was almost precipitious.

Some suggestion of the aura of greatness still was on him, however, and for over a year he has been prominently mentioned as possible manager of the Boston Braves. It even may be that he had the alternative of Boston or Newark, when Hornsby goes to the Cubs. Anyhow, they say Newark it is.

MAY PILOT ROBINS

Max Carey, veteran outfielder of the Brooklyn Dodgers, will be manager of the Robins in the 1929 baseball campaign. That's the gossip you hear and it may pan out. The story goes that Uncle Wilbert Robinson will turn over the managerial reins to Carey so as to devote all his time to the duties of his office as president.

RIVERS WINNER OVER DEMPSEY IN LEGION GO

Senor James Rivers, Fullerton's fistic phenom, had all he could do to earn Referee Boyd Ellis' decision in the main event of the Orange American Legion's second benefit boxing show at Ellis' Delhi "Barn" last night but Senor James got it all right.

Young Dempsey, a black from the Main Street Athletic club in Los Angeles, proved to be much tougher opposition than was expected and had the weekly main eventer hanging on with great gusto at various intervals. Dempsey's style was a puzzling one and not the kind that showed Rivers in so good a light but the Fullerton ace attended to his knitting and got the verdict, which, however, was not overly popular.

Howard Johnston is still unbeaten here. The Santa Ana exmarine drew a substitute, the ancient Ted Frenchie, and beat him in one of Johnston's most impressive victories here. Frenchie is a smart old head and Howard had to work for his decision but he deserved it.

For the first time since he has been boxing locally, Young Papke, kid brother of the former four-round idol, found himself unable to box rings around an opponent when he faced Kid Rooney, an equally clever boxer. Papke was awarded the decision which might well have been called a draw.

Mike Canneles beat Young Franco in four rounds. Joe Garcia defeated Leo Dominguez.

MARKS BATTLES HERNANDEZ AT DELHI TONIGHT

By RINGSIDER

Mistah Marks, who has been beating all the boys with disquieting regularity at the Orange County Amateur Athletic club, brings his dusky self to the Henry T. Foust slug shoppe again tonight, this time for the expressed purpose of proving his right to a bout with the Santa Ana whirlwind, Zenaydo Chavez.

Leo Hernandez, a lean Mexican from the San Gabriel Athletic club, will try to massage Mistah Marks gently but firmly on the whiskers and persuade him he has no business in the same ring with Zenaydo.

But Mistah Marks, known on the voting roster as Ace Marks, will likely remain adamant on the situation. A pretty fair boy is this Negro, a good boxer and a sharpshooter with what push he has back of his blows. In fact, Marks is regarded as being so good that some of the boys who whoop it up have been rude enough to carry on a whispering campaign to the effect that the O. C. A. C. moguls would just as soon have Hernandez win so Mistah Marks can't get in there and rough up their little Zenaydo.

There seems no foundation for these reports, however, and Hernandez will get a fair break out of it. In fact, it might be just as well for Chavez that Hernandez does not win because he is no slouch in there himself.

A second return engagement between two old Delhi favorites, Richie Thomas and Jack Gilbert, will be the semi-windup. Gilbert beat Thomas, then a greenhorn, handily here a year ago. Two weeks ago, Thomas decisively outpointed Jacques. The third meeting will determine which is superior.

Tony Morino, Placentia flash, and Morrie Nathan, Los Angeles, 118-pounder, are down for the feature preliminary of which there are five in all. One of the interesting ones is that which brings the popular Romeo Lemon, Fullerton high school youth, to the O. O. A. C. banner against Max Hernandez, of Anaheim.

TONIGHT'S CARD

Main Event—Ace Marks vs. Leo Hernandez, 145 pounds.

Semi-windup — Richie Thomas vs. Jack Gilbert, 125 pounds.

Preliminaries—Tony Morino vs. Morrie Nathan, 118 pounds; Max Hernandez vs. Romeo Lemon, 148 pounds; Abe Miller vs. Ned Herman, 110 pounds; Lou Title vs. Julius Schultz, 130 pounds; Norman Lemon vs. Bob Douglas, 145 pounds.

BEARS OFF TONIGHT FOR SEATTLE GAME

BERKELEY, Calif., Nov. 7.—Coach "Nibs" Price and his University of California football team will entrain for Seattle tonight to face the University of Washington eleven on Saturday in a conference game.

The pre-battle returns all favor California, but Price refuses to claim victory ahead of time because he knows well to what heights an enraged team will rise on occasions—and to say the Washington Husky is enraged is putting it mildly.

Doctors who examined Benny Lom's shoulder, injured against Oregon, pronounced the star halfback in no dangerous condition, but recommended he stay out of the Washington clash.

West Virginia Conquers Fordham

NEW YORK, Nov. 7.—West Virginia won its sixth straight game yesterday by defeating Fordham, 18 to 0, in the only major college game of the day. The Mountaineers scored in the first two minutes of play when Lewis covered a fumble behind Fordham's goal for a touchdown. Ryan, West Virginia halfback, scored the other two touchdowns on end runs.

Fernandez Kayoes Mancillas In L. A.

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 7.—Unleashing a right to the chin, Ignacio Fernandez, Filipino featherweight, knocked out Joe Mancillas, Mexican scrapper, in the sixth round of a scheduled 10-round bout here last night.

HE DOES THIS JOB NICELY

Blue Howell, captain and crack back at Nebraska, knows one point means a difference in the outcome of the game—witness Nebraska's recent 7-6 victory over Syracuse—and he doesn't want to ever regret a failure to add an extra point after touchdown. He is shown here practicing the art, with Halfback Sloane holding the ball.

AND TWO MORE BABES

Miller Huggins, departing for his Florida winter home with a new set of store teeth and a bag of clubs that shoot tens, says that even his ball club can't carry two weak hitters. He has two weak hitters and he proposes to do something about it.

He may move Koenig to third base and try Durocher at short. He hopes that Durocher will hit and he also hopes that Dickey will come through as a badly needed hitting catcher.

Lazzeri can play third or short but he'll be kept at second where he is considered invaluable. Wera, Lary and Reese will be given plenty of opportunity in the spring to get a regular job in the infield.

Huggins also confided that he would like to have two more regular pitchers who could win 20 games each.

The little manager of the champion Yankees said his greatest thrill in the late world series came when George Pipgras escaped the second inning of the second game. One more hit in that inning and it would have been the end of George, he said.

It will be recalled that Pipgras had such a tough time getting started that the players gave a massed demonstration of their disapproval. It looked for a moment as if they were going to force Huggins to make a change.

"I kept telling and signalling Pipgras to get his arms up high but he wouldn't do it," Huggins said. "He was wild in the first inning but he struck out Harey with two on and got by. He went bad again in the second inning and they go three runs and tied the score on a couple of hits, a pass and an error. One more hit and I would have jerked him, but he finally got his arms up around his neck and started pitching. They got only two hits off him after that. It gave he my greatest thrill when he started working like I knew he could."

DONS HARD AT WORK FOR BIG MONDAY TEST

Coach Bill Cook put his Santa Ana junior college Dons through their first stiff workout of the week yesterday. Such practices will be the order of the day for the rest of this week and when Friday rolls around, the local football players will know that they have been through the mill. All this week is in preparation for the game with the strong Compton eleven to be played on the home field next Monday afternoon, Armistice Day.

With all the boys in good physical condition, Cook expects to be able to put a team on the field that will be the strongest and scrappiest eleven that has represented his Dons so far. He has hopes that the boys will be able to hit the stride to which he knows they are capable and which so far this season they have not really found.

In order to win from Compton they must go like they went against Pasadena in the first quarter. In this instance, however they will have to go hard and fast the whole length of the game without a single let-up.

Compton is coming over here with with a double purpose in mind They are pointing for a win to help them on toward the conference championship and they also have a strong urge to repay the Dons for the defeat handed them by this school last year. The 6 to 6 setback the Dons meted out to them in last season's fracas robbed Compton of any hopes for the championship and with this in mind the Tartars are invading Santa Ana thirsting for blood and lots of it.

Coach Cook is doing everything possible to equip his team with the plays and defense necessary to thwart the Compton eleven and with the proper co-operation of every man on the large squad, he

IRISH GUNNING FOR TILT WITH CARNEGIE TECH

By FRANK GETTY

NEW YORK, Nov. 7.—"Notre Dame fears Carnie."

This is a new football slogan in the middle west, replacing the once-famous "Stagg fears Purdue."

A couple of Saturdays ago, Purdue fell upon Amos Alonzo Stagg's Maroons and beat them 40 to 0.

The Irish of Notre Dame have yet to lose a football game at South Bend. They would dislike that more than anything else that could happen to them this season. Especially would they dislike to be beaten by Carnegie Tech at South Bend a week from Saturday. The plaid-clad technicians upset the Irish two years ago, and this season have a team which might do it again.

Carnegie Tech, coached by Superior Court Judge Walter P. Steffen of Chicago, and featuring in a fast, hard-hitting backfield, two great ball carriers in Howard Harpster and Cy Letzelter, is one of the outstanding teams of the East.

The Plaid is a high scoring outfit, made up largely of sophomores with the exception of Captain Letzelter, Harpster and Schmidt, a tackle.

At the half-way mark this season, Carnegie Tech stood fifth in scoring among eastern elevens, with a total of 167 points in five games and victories over W. & J. and Pitt to its credit. Harpster, who is something of a triple-threat man besides a competent field general, scored seven touchdowns himself during October.

Carnegie Tech's coach, Judge Steffen, only officiates during September and on week ends. The rest of the football season he is required on the superior court bench in Chicago. At such times, his duties are assumed by Bob dell, ex-Bucknell, and Dr. William L. Marks, ex-Pennsylvania.

This rather unusual arrangement seems to have worked out quite well in Tech's case. Certainly it satisfies the authorities, who refuse to listen every time Judge Steffen proposes to resign. While the head coach cannot be with the team during the week, he has gained a thorough knowledge of his men during the formative period in September, and he is there to direct and inspire them during the week ends.

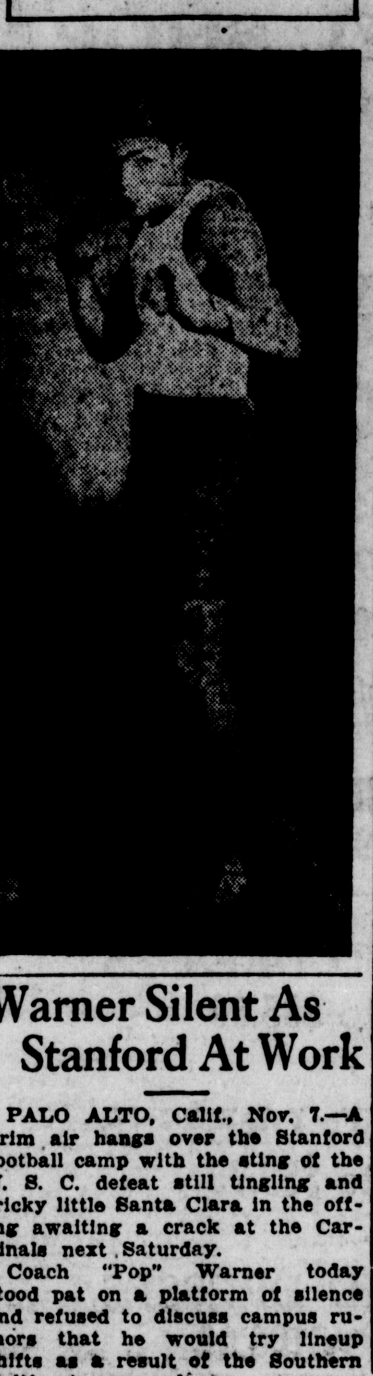
Judge Steffen was a former Chicago University backfield star, and was named for Walter Camp's All-American eleven in 1908, in the days when a western player had to be good indeed to win recognition from the "Father of Football."

Carnegie Tech is making no promises about the Notre Dame game, and no threats. But nothing would be quite as satisfactory to the Plaid as a victory over the Irish.

Knute Rockne had no very high hopes of a successful season this year, and now the Danish pigskin master has even less reason for optimism.

BOXES TONIGHT

This is Romeo Lemon, Fullerton high school boxer, who is on the program tonight at the Orange County Amateur Athletic club.



Warner Silent As Stanford At Work

PALO ALTO, Calif., Nov. 7.—A grim air hangs over the Stanford football camp with the sting of the U. S. C. defeat still tingling and tricky little Santa Clara in the offing awaiting a crack at the Cardinals next Saturday.

Coach "Pop" Warner today stood pat on a platform of silence and refused to discuss campus rumors that he would try lineup shifts as a result of the Southern California reversal.

L. A. TEAM OUT TO WIN GAMES STILL ON SKED

BY HARRY CULVER
(I. N. S. Special Correspondent)

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 6.—Although there's many a slip 'twixt cup and the cupboard, as the feller says, those mathematically inclined can see a faint chance for the national football championship reposing with as much "propriety in the Trojan trophy chamber as in any of the 19 other major updeefated teams throughout this fair country.

The upset of Stanford offers U. S. C. a grand opportunity to rear up on its hind legs and put in a claim for the mythical pennant despite a tie at the hands of California — providing some of the other outstanding teams in the country do the graceful thing and take one on the nose.

Notre Dame can help a lot towards the Trojan cause if the Irish beat the Army and Carnegie Tech—yea, if. But Knute Rockne may reach down in his bag of tricks and pull out a new one for the boys in these two games, especially since the Irish are now in the best shape of the season.

Then if the Trojans beat Notre Dame here December 1, in their intersectional classic everything will be hotsy-totsy, if the Trojans are not upset by Washington State's Cougars again.

Stanford also can help a lot by beating California in the "Big Game," November 24 and the Army in New York December 1. The Cards may come through, inasmuch as that upset from the Trojans will serve to put the Cardinals hard at work, and "Pop" Warner admits he has his best team since coming to Stanford.

The situation in the national championship race will clear considerably next Saturday, if for no other reason than six of the contenders battle each other to keep in the running for both sectional and national gonfalons.

UNBEATEN GRID TEAMS TO PLAY TOUGH RIVALS

BY LES CONKLIN
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

NEW YORK, Nov. 7.—Army, Carnegie Tech, Georgetown and Boston college the East's leading unbeaten and untied elevens, face opposition of the hardest sort next Saturday.

Army tackles its old rival, Notre Dame, in a game at Yankee stadium here which is expected to be witnessed by 80,000 persons. Georgetown, which last Saturday disposed of the previously undefeated New York university outfit, clashes with the Carnegie Skibos and Boston college opposes the strong Fordham team.

Interest in the Navy-Michigan game at Baltimore is quickening because of its intersectional character and the improvement shown by both teams after a poor start.

The Penn-Harvard contest at Cambridge also is sure to be a thriller despite the fact that the escutcheon of each team has been marred by defeat. Penn pulled a neat victory out of the fire against Chicago and Harvard has been going like a house afire since its defeat by Army.

Dartmouth will endeavor to start a comeback at the expense of Brown, an ancient rival.

The Pitsburgh-Washington and Jefferson game at Pittsburgh rounds out the list of feature games. Both have been defeated, but these Keystone state rivals always put up a spirited battle in their annual clash.

Other leading eastern teams should have an easy time of it next Saturday, with minor opposition scheduled. Yale entertains Maryland, Princeton is host to Washington and Lee, New York university plays Alfred, Columbia takes on Johns-Hopkins, Syracuse opposes Ohio Wesleyan, Colgate engages Hobart, Penn State clashes with George Washington, Holy Cross plays Boston university, Lehigh takes on Bucknell and Lafayette opposes Rutgers.

has hopes of emerging from the fracas victorious. If the Dons win this game it will mean another large step toward the championship play-off, the trip to Hawaii, as well as a trip to Northern California to meet the winner of the Northern Junior College conference.

For a few minutes yesterday, Santa Ana hopes took a decided flop when Stan Norton, star quarterback, failed to get up on his feet after one play. "Nort" hurt his knee and for a spell it was feared that he had sustained the same injury that befell Dugger and Casey. However, it developed that it was a bad wrench and not a case of ligaments strained. Cook however, took no chances on further injuring this husky ball-packer and gave Norton a rest for the remainder of the afternoon. Norton has shown throughout the season a fight and ability that has been outstanding in every tilt and has been one of the most consistent ground-gainers on the local eleven. A serious injury to him will seriously cripple the Dons and Cook is religiously avoiding this.

definitely to have designs on George Uhle. The Cleveland club has turned sour on Uhle and will use him in an advantageous deal but it is not likely that he will get a ticket to New York.

The Yankees told the Indian management to name the players from a list of two catchers, five infielders and three outfielders that they would take for Uhle. But the Indians didn't name them.

"If any other club had made that proposition we would have done business promptly," Billy Evans, general manager of the Clevelands, said.

"Why not with the Yankees?" he was asked.

"Despite the loose way in which he trained for us this year, Uhle is still the greatest pitcher in baseball if he will work at it. We're not building up pennant winners for another town," he said.

Broncos Hope To Defeat Cardinals

SANTA CLARA, Calif., Nov. 7.—Encouraged by their fine showing against the Olympic club at San Francisco Saturday, the Broncos today were preparing for the Stanford game Saturday with dash and vigor. SPORTS through Edgren's EYES

By Robert Edgren

Billy Gibson tells a story about how Benny Leonard became a fighter. Billy ran the old Fairmount A. C. in the Bronx for many years. ylt was more a hobb than an income proposition for Bily. He liked boxing, and the club provided jobs for some of Billy. He liked boxing, and the the neighborhood were boxing and when any of them went on in a show their pals who couldn't raise the necessary fifty cents for a seat tried all sorts of tricks to get in. Sometimes they slipped in during the afternoon training and hid under the ring until night, when they crawled out and found seats. Or they climbed through a window.

One show night Billy saw a watchman corner a small bunch of boys who couldn't show tickets. Billy stopped and looked them over. He was too soft-hearted to have them thrown out.

"You want to see the show, do you?" he asked. "Want to very much, do you?"

Billy was assured that the boys certainly did want to see the show. Otherwise why had they climbed through an open ventilator.

"Can You Box?"

"Well," said Bill, temporizing. "I don't see how I can let you all in for nothing. Can any of you box?"

"This kid can box," eagerly volunteered the bunch, pushing out a small, dark-eyed boy who looked almost too seraphic to be a fighter.

"Can you?" asked Gib.

"Not very much."

"Would you box four rounds if I let the other guys have seats to look on?" asked Gib.

The small, smooth-faced boy said he'd try. Gibson went down into the dressing rooms and looked over the bunch, picked out a young boxer who wasn't too tough and told the seconds to put him on with the smooth-faced boy in the first preliminary. Then Gibson forgot all about it until, standing up in the back near the office as usual, he saw the bout. The announcer asked the smooth-faced boy his name.

"Benny Leinert," he said. The announcer turned around and waved his hand to the crowd.

"In this corner, Benny Leonard," he yelled. That's how Benny got the ring name that was to become famous.

Gibson Taught Him

Benny won that first fight without even having his hair mussed. Gibson told him to come back for the next show. After a couple of other bouts in which Benny showed some natural ability, Gibson suggested that he come around afternoons and train with the boys in the gmy, and learn a little more. Not long after that Benny began to work up toward the final bouts.

Gibson became interested and suggested that he'd personally do Benny's match making and help him along. Benny agreed. In a few months Benny was a favorite in the Bronx, where they liked to seeh im dance around and tap the other fellows without being hit. They called him the "feather duster puncher." And then one day Gibson called Benny into the office for a conference.

"You've gone as far as you can this way," Gibson said. "To go any farther you'll have to learn how to punch. There never was a champion yet who didn't have a knockout punch."

Benny went to work learning the trick of slipping over the punch that wins. His next bout was the Mandot, a famous New Orleans lightweight—very clever—a good little fighter. Benny knocked Mandot out, most unexpectedly. The crowd thought it was an accident. But Benny went right along knocking out better and better fighters, until he got Freddy Walsh. Twice Freddy was too clever to be caught. Then the third time Benny hung him on the hopes and Kid McPartland counted Walsh out and passed the world's lightweight title along to Leonard.

Benny became one of the cleverest of champions, made a fortune, and retired.

BRUINS LEAVE FOR TILT WITH COUGARS

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 7.—More than 30 Bruins of the University of California at Los Angeles, under the leadership of Coach Bill Spaulding, will depart tonight for Portland, Ore., where Saturday they lock horns with the powerful grid team of Washington State college.

The Bruins are the underdogs in the advance betting, but they are determined to offer the best they have by way of pigskin skill and strength against the strong Northerners. Captain Joe Fleming, who bruised his shoulder in the Idaho game, is back in the lineup.

INELIGIBLES OF SAINTS BEATEN BY 'B' ELEVEN

By "SKY" DUNLAP

Recruited from every nook and cranny in the school, the Santa Ana high school ineligibles took on the Class B football squad last night and received an unofficial licking.

Cocah Clyde Patton's regulars are rounding into shape and have the earmarks of a good team, despite their three league upsets to date. Coach Patton is puting his charges through a stiff schedule this week in preparation for his game with the strong Glendale middleweights Friday at Poly field here.

Led by Frank Hilligas, former Class B captain and a player de luxe, the ineligibles made a strong bid for aw in. However, lack of training cut in on the wind and they soon got tired. A few of the stars on the non-regulars were Hilligas, Wayne Gross, John Estes, Max Wilson, Corwin Frazee and Clarence Meacham.

The regulars had their first string in most of hte time and stopped the ineligibles several times in their tracks. Captain Joe McChesney was a towering pillar on defense while Kiyoshi Higashi, Clayton Kaps, Roy Harvey, Garth Olsen and the rest helped him. Hideo Higashi had the "temporaries" fooled with his passes, end runs and off tackle runs. Bert Winslow, playing full, also did some good playing.

The 130's will tangle in a practice fray against the Julia C. Lathrop junior high school gridders tonight to further strengthen their weak spots. Lathrop beat the Saints a few weeks ago and naturally, the "Bees" will try their durndest to win.

ADAMS FACES BELL

Jack Dempsey Trains— To Lose Weight

NEW YORK, Nov. 7.—Jack Dempsey has started training again—not for a fight but to reduce his waistline. When his show, "The Big Fight," closed in New Haven he weighed 197. Yesterday he weighed 205.

To get some of the surplus flesh off, Dempsey worked 10 rounds on the pulleys, the light bags, heavy bags and in shadow boxing, at a downtown gym.

After the workout, Dempsey said: "I'm not coming back. I'm never coming back."

TWO TIE FOR FIRST IN GOLF CLUB PLAY

Jesse L. Ainsworth and J. K. McDonald tied for Class A honors in the usual mid-weekly ball sweepstakes at the Santa Ana Country club yesterday. In match play against par, Ainsworth and McDonald were both one down. F. E. Farnsworth was three down and Mark Lacy four down.

Class B prizes went to Walter Vandermast, two down; S. R. Bowen, three down; C. P. Patton, four down, and A. B. Watson, five down.

Santa Ana Country club women and their guests will engage in match play against par tomorrow, beginning at 10 a. m. Any visitor is welcome to participate, it was announced.

Loyola Eleven Off For Denver Contest

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 7.—The Loyola college football squad was scheduled to leave here today for Denver, where they will meet the Regis college team Saturday. Regis, by virtue of more beef and experience, is an easy favorite over the Loyolans.

WILCE SUCCESS AT OHIO STATE STOPS ALUMNI

BY DAVIS J. WALSH
(I.N.S. Sports Editor)

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 7.—Largely, I suspect, because Ohio State football teams never seemed able to win at least 10 games out of a possible nine, there were those at this time last year who were all for riding Dr. John Wilce out of town on a razor blade. This suggestion so irked the doctor that he took the only course open to him and a few other things, including their word for it, his hat, their breath, his leave, strictly in the order named, also his time about.

The resignation of Dr. Wilce as football coach doesn't become effective until the end of the current season. But now that Ohio States hasn't lost a game this year—thereby differing somewhat from Chicago and Michigan, which haven't lose a game since week ago Saturday—there seems to be a tendency today toward the notion that somebody may have been too hasty and that it wasn't the doctor. I said tendency and I didn't mean stampede. For this is a story with three possible climaxes.

The second revolves around the report that Clarence Spears, Minnesota coach, may be blandished into coming in here next year to see what he can do about it. Nobody appears to have anything definite on Clarence in this respect, except that his contract with Minnesota expires this year and that he is such an ardent exponent of the shift that he even has been known to use it in connection with his professional affiliations. Clarence coached successively and I may say successfully at Dartmouth and West Virginia before going to Minnesota.

The third climax may be furnished, they say, by Sam Willaman, present backfield coach here, who had more than a modicum of success at Ames and at East High school in Cleveland. Samuel, as a candidate, is nobody's chump but that won.t save him from being forgotten in the event that Wilce wins from Iowa and Illinois. There is none so sincerely penitent as the crusader who finds that he has campaigned against a winner.

You should not be surprised if you hear that Dr. Wilce has been asked to reconsider his resignation.

Trojan Reserves to Start In Saturday

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 7.—Under present plans Charlie Boren will be the only Southern California regular to start against Arizona Saturday. Coach Howard Jones wants to save his men as much as possible for the Washington and Notre Dame games just ahead but he believes Boren needs work. Boren has spent much of this season on the bench with injuries.

A New Tube 'INSURES' A New Tire

I HATE to see a motorist gamble on an old tube in a new tire. Too much is at stake. Many a new casing has been ruined by a slow leak or a patch coming loose in an old tube.

A used tube may seem O. K. It may hold air. But unless it was recently bought, it will have to be replaced in a short time—and it may take thousands of miles out of the new casing by unexpectedly going flat.

So why not play safe, I say, in the first place? A new tube is the best insurance you can buy for a new tire.

The little you might save making the old tube do for a while is more than wiped out when you ride home some dark night on the new casing without knowing it is almost flat.

I'm not just trying to push new tubes. The fact is that when people buy new tires and new tubes together, they get so many more miles that they aren't in the market again for a long time.

It may cost us some sales in this way, but it makes us better and more lasting friends.

W. E. C. TO SELL GRAYBAR FIRM TO EMPLOYES

NEW YORK, Nov. 7.—The Western Electric company, at the close of 1928, will sell the Graybar Electric company, its supply subsidiary, to the 2500 officers and employes of the Graybar company, it had been announced today by President Edgar S. Bloom, of the Western Electric company.

One of the largest electrical supply houses in the world, the Graybar ownership will pass through outright or installment purchases on stock to the officers and employes.

In financial circles the move was regarded as a step on the part of the American Telephone and Telegraph company to confine itself purely to the telephone field. A. T. and T. owns more than 98 per cent of the Western Electric company, Inc., which does the manufacturing supply and warehousing for the Bell System.

HAWAIIAN SUNSHINE HOUR ABC FEATURE

The fifth of a series of "Hawaiian Sunshine Hour" programs, which have proved very popular with ABC Chain listeners, will be broadcast tonight, starting at 8 o'clock.

This program brings back memories of a few short years ago when Hawaiian music first found its place in the sun, when the light, airy melodies of Hawaii took the country by storm and were to be heard on every dance floor and in many homes. The lasting popularity of this type of music is attested by the numerous letters of appreciation which have been received on the previous programs in this series.

Guest artists on this program, the band of the S. S. Aleutian, will be heard playing many old favorite Hawaiian airs. Closing the program they will play Hawaii's famous song of farewell, "Aloha Oe."

S. A. PLAYERS WILL ATTEND LAGUNA SHOW

That interest which actors of the amateur stage feel in each other's efforts will be expressed by a group of members of the Santa Ana Community Players association tomorrow night, when they motor to Laguna Beach to attend the closing performance of "The Torchbearers," by the players of the Community club of "Our Village."

"The Torchbearers" is to open tonight on the stage of the Laguna Beach Community club, under the direction of Mrs. Guy Bates Post. There will be but the two performances. Prominent Laguna Beach folk taking part will be Vina McMillan, Mrs. Joseph S. Thurston, Mrs. Gertrude Schwinn, Eleanor Mae Spencer, Martha DeAhna, Sam Ford, Bernard St. Clair, Philip Laude-Knaggs, F. W. Shields and Charles Stevens.

One of the achievements of the production and construction committee, headed by Brayton S. Norton and Mrs. Mabelle Lord Frost, was the purchase of a new drawing room set from the Miller studio, Los Angeles, which will be used in future productions.

Santa Ana Players who are planning to attend the performance tomorrow night include Mr. and Mrs. Harry Brackett, Mr. and Mrs. Burr Shafer, Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Harnois, Miss Edith Cornell, Miss Hazel Bemus, Mr. and Mrs. Warren Fletcher, Mr. and Mrs. C. Joseph Snyder, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Hurwitz, Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Van Dien and Mrs. William Cummings.

MUSIC STUDENTS WILL GIVE OPERA

Spurred on by the success of last year's effort, the combined high school and junior college music departments are planning to present some famous opera to the music loving public of Santa Ana in the near future.

H. M. S. Pinafore was the play selected last year. Leads were taken by Roger Hearn, Theodore Jessee, Hazel Smith, Charles Hess, Nada Smith and Clarence Ranney. Miss Myrtle Martin, head of the music department, directed the presentation, while the high school orchestra, under the instruction of S. J. Mustol, director of instrumental music in the city schools, played the overture and accompaniment.

Dice Give Negro Wrong Number

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 7—(UP)—Imagine the sad case of Walter Thomas, Negro, who staked his pile on the turn of the dice and tossed "a three and one" which means disaster in any well regulated dice game.

Walter told Judge Lile T. Jacks he "borrowed" a case of eggs from a wholesale house, sold them for $5 and risked the "fiver" against some fellow colored boys.

"An, judge, Ah throwed an ace deuce," he declared mournfully.

"Thirty days," said the judge.

C. E. TOZIER, ORANGE COUNTY BOY, MEMBER OF SOUSA BAND APPEARING IN S. A. TOMORROW

That Orange county will be represented in the band organization of Lt.-Com. John Philip Sousa when it appears in this city tomorrow afternoon at the high school auditorium will come as news to most of those planning to hear the concert, which is to begin at 3 o'clock under the auspices of Santa Ana high school. But among the clarinetists will be Cecil E. Tozier, son of E. B. Tozier, 810 North Spadra street, Fullerton, who has been with the Sousa band for the last two years.

Although he began his musical career in Los Angeles, where he played with the Manual Arts high school band for one season, Tozier's training has been largely in Orange county, for he played with the Anaheim high school band, until his graduation from that school, except for one season in Long Beach with the shipyard band and Long Beach high school band.

Played in Anaheim

During his high school course in Anaheim, he also played with the municipal band of that city, and with the Fullerton city band, appearing many times as soloist at various musical events throughout the county. Immediately after completing his high school course, Tozier left for the east to accept a position with the Pat Conway band, in New York City. At the close of the first year he returned to Long Beach for three seasons, leaving there two years ago to join the organization of the "March King."

In those two years, Sousa's band has made two complete tours of the United States, playing in many of the larger cities and in every state in the Union. The present tour, celebrating the fiftieth year of John Philip Sousa as a band director and composer,

Sousa Unable To Attend Lions Meeting

Announcement, yesterday, by W. S. Spicer, president of the Santa Ana Lions club, that John Philip Sousa will not be here in time tomorrow to address the club before his concert, as programmed, brought great disappointment to scores of Santa Ana men who had made plans for being guests at the club luncheon tomorrow.

Explaining that Sousa could not meet his engagement here because he will not arrive in Los Angeles until 1 p. m., tomorrow, Spicer said that another speaker would be substituted. Spicer said that because of the rearrangement of plans, the meeting tomorrow would not be a public session.

S. A. COLLEGE REPRESENTED AT C. C. A. MEET

Representatives from all the Southern California colleges met recently at Occidental College in the regular convention of the Collegiate Christian association.

Dr. Earl J. Miller, dean of men at the University of California at Los Angeles, acted as chairman at the afternoon session. Delegates were welcomed in addresses by Dean Thomas G. Burt, of Occidental, and Miss Frances Moore, girls' dean.

Reports from the national conference of the Collegiate Christian association, held in Kalazamoo, Mich., were features of the afternoon session.

During the afternoon conference, Dr. Raymond C. Brooks, of Pomona college, talked on "The New Spiritual Dynamic for Campus Religion."

Delegates were served supper in the Occidental Student Union building. The dinner session was under the leadership of Dr. Arthur C. Coons, of Occidental.

The final conference of the convention was held in the evening in Fowler hall. The speaker of the evening was Dean C. J. Booth, of Chaffee junior college, who discussed the attitude of state schools toward Christian activities among their students.

After the evening talks, the group engaged in a short period of open forum discussion.

CO-OPS OF GREAT VALUE, DEAN SAYS

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Nov. 10.—Co-operative farming organizations are the nucleus around which the farming industry clusters and holds together, is the opinion of Dean W. C. Coffey, of the University of Wisconsin's department of agriculture.

"Our co-operatives are contributing to the business ability of our farmers," he says. "To succeed, co-operative marketing must be an efficiently conducted business.

"Our co-operatives are helping redefine and integrate our rural communities. Under the profound readjustments of modern rural life, community consciousness had been lost in many instances. The growth of co-operation has helped to retain community conclousness or to redefine it.

"Our co-operatives are helping to break down racial and religious barriers. There must be unity of purpose in a co-operative that succeeds. This is so apparent that it tends to wipe out narrow prejudice of race and of religious creed.

"Our co-operatives are promoting education. The consolidated school thrives best where co-operative societies are most successful."

SECTION TO MEET

BREA, Nov. 7.—Mrs. Phebe Spenseley, chairman of the literary section of the Brea Woman's club, announces a meeting in her home Friday night. This meeting will mark the first real work the section has done this year, when books of travel and history will be read and reviewed.

YES, THERE WERE NUMEROUS FAMILIAR FACES IN THRONG AT REGISTER ELECTION PARTY

Torchlight processions of our grandfather's day have their modern prototypes in such crowds as gather beneath the arc lights at The Register office on presidential election nights to see the returns flashed on the brick wall of the post-office building across the way.

But those that marched and shouted in a torchlight procession or a "jollification" a generation or two ago certainly never went prepared for comfort as these modern crowds do.

Surely they never gathered at the scene early, prepared to take their ease in comfortable little folding chairs.

But that was the way it was last night. Early in the evening hours Third street at Sycamore, and half-way to Broadway, was closed to traffic when two long banners, bearing the words, "Street Closed," were suspended between the post-office building and the Register building. And almost at once the political fans began to arrive.

Vociferous Gathering

Soon it looked like mide-day when the World Series was on. And sounded even more so, if you get what we mean. For election fans are fully as vociferous as their brethren, the baseball fans, and when such a message as—

"29 precincts in Orange county (incomplete) give Hoover 5723 and Smith 1161" flashed on the brick screen early in the evening, the cheers rang out as enthusiastically as when Babe Ruth made a home run.

As for the crowds, it seemed that all the old friends were there. The women in the black and white check coat, seated well toward the middle either was the baseball fan who was present every day, or else her twin sister. The man with the green sweaters, the chap in wide sombrero and high-heeled boots, the elderly man nervously chewing on long black cigars, the little girl gazing wide-eyed at all the excitement, unconsciously painting pictures on memory's wall which she will gaze at in future years, and the young man and girl, holding hands in complete oblivion to the crowd, were all there, just as they were a few weeks when the Cards and Yanks met on the field of battle.

Coffee and Sandwiches

Within the square formed by the two "Street Closed" banners, on the outer edge of the crowd, a group of enterprising American Legion auxiliary members offered a very real service in the sandwiches and coffee they dispensed to the crowd. For even excitement and political fervor cannot be absolute proof against a chill November fog creeping in from the sea. And piping hot coffee can be as comforting to chilled boidies as an overwhelming Hoover victory is to Republican souls.

Up in the news room of The Register office, a few members of the "old guard" sat in their usual window seats. Bry Williams was there, in the broad-brimmed black hat which is as essential a detail of his wardrobe as his shoes or collar. Joe Steele came and went in his usual breezy manner—in his shirt sleeves, of course. Charlie Chapman, in a new pear-gray hat, watched the record of his race with McBride.

Scene of Action

Western Union messenger boys dashed in and out. Telephone bells jangled . . . "What are the returns in Pennsylvania?" "—Rhode Island?" "—South Carolina?" "Who's elected? Hoover? Fine!" "Here are complete returns from Laguna Beach—" "Returns from Newport" "—from Orange."

Busy typewriters clacked and clattered; in the telegraph room, the machines ground out the news; the radio was raucous with its latest word from the east.

Such was presidential election last night in this year of grace, 1928. Such, the modern version of the old torchlight procesion.

INQUEST INTO FARRAR DEATH IS CONTINUED

Due to the failure to obtain witnesses, the coroner's inquest over the body of Arthur H. Farrar, Tustin rancher, who was killed Monday night when the automobile he was driving plunged into the San Luis Rey river, in Oceanside, was continued yesterday and will be held today, according to word received here.

The continuance also will change funeral plans, it was said, and the funeral probably will not be held until the first of next week, according to Smith and Tuthill, funeral directors here, who will return the body to Santa Ana after the inquest.

The condition of Fred H. Lazenby, Santa Ana automobile salesman, who was injured in the accident, was reported improved today. He will survive.

The two men were returning to Santa Ana from San Diego when their car plunged through a bridge railing and fell 75 feet into the river bed. Farrar was killed instantly and Lazenby suffered internal injuries, cuts and bruises.

BUT WHAT STOPS 'EM?

PARIS, Nov. 7.—The French Academy of Science reports that the cause of babies crying can often be laid to winds coming from the south. The winds come usually in the late afternoon, drying the baby skin, and increasing the appetite.

1929 SCHOOL DIRECTORY IS NOW OFF PRESS

Completed within a week's time, the Santa Ana school directory for the year 1928-1929 now is being delivered to teachers and school officials.

All the work on the directory was done in the high school print shop by high school boys, under the supervision of T. E. Williams, printing instructor.

The directory for this year contains the names and addresses of all members of the board of education, department chairmen, administrative department, committees of board of education, supervisors and special teachers and directors.

The body of the book is taken up in listing the faculty of the high school, junior college, Americanization department, junior high schools and grammar schools. The name, subject taught, address and phone number of each faculty member is given. The names are listed according to schools and also alphabetically.

Over 300 teachers are listed in the book, together with the school officials and members and officers of the Parent-Teacher organization.

500 copies of the directory have been printed for the use of teachers and officials.

ALLEGED BAD CHECK OPERATOR CAPTURED

BREA, Nov. 7.—P. H. Riley, 38, described in a police bulletin from Calexico as a bad check artist, made a bad move when he lingered in Brea for two days recently, thereby leaving a faint trail for Chief W. H. Williams to follow.

Williams arrested Riley in a Second street hotel in Los Angeles and with nothing more than the fact that he had borrowed and not returne da car jack, secured from him the confession that he had stolen a Ford coupe. Told that the Ford had been picked up near the Second street hotel he was quickly betrayed into saying that he had left it in Vernon and there are car was recovered. In Calexico he must answer to the theft charge in addition to that of passing bad checks.

1000 Peach Trees Pulled Up Because Of 'Pauper Prices'

MARYVILLE, Calif., Nov. 10.—Embittered because of the "peach wars" of 1927 and 1928 that have brought him "pauper prices" for his crops, Noah F. Mable, Maryville grower, has pulled up 1000 producing peach trees, and will plant the ground to beans and alfalfa.

Mable produced 110 tons of Phillips peaches from less than 500 of these trees in 1926.

Henry Seidel Marries Mrs. Caulfield In Yuma

The marriage of Henry Seidel and Mrs. Eupha Caulfield, both of Santa Ana, which took place today in Yuma, Arizona, was a surprise to their many friends here.

Mr. Seidel and Mrs. Caulfield motored to Yuma this morning for the ceremony. They will stay in that city tonight and in the morning will leave by automobile for Lexington, Mo., where they will visit Mrs. Seidel's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Near.

The wedding was a very quiet one performed at the North Methodist church in Yuma. The bride chose a becoming frock of blue flat crepe with accessories to harmonize for the ceremony. She carried a bouquet of pink rose buds with maidenhair fern.

Mrs. Caulfield has made her home in Santa Ana for the past 10 years with her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Near of 1336 West Washington avenue.

Mr. Seidel is the owner of the Seidel meat markets in this city and he has lived here most of his life. He attended Santa Ana schools.

It's Chocolate—All the Way Through

Someone and her husband likes Chocolate Cake "as is chocolate cake" . . . they want it chocolate all the way through and I rather think they want a lot of it . . . cake'n frosting both.

Personally, I like the recipe for chocolate cake (Johanna's) printed several weeks ago, for a cake covered with boiled chocolate frosting, but perhaps the lady did not see The Mixing Bowl that day, and if she did, she probably did not care for the recipe.

Here is one for her special benefit, as well as other lovers of chocolate:

MAHOGANY CAKE

Take ⅛ of a half-pound cake of Baker's chocolate, shave fine and boil to a thick paste with a little water and ¼ cup of sugar. Cream together 2 cups sugar, 1 cup of shortening, a little salt, add 2 eggs unbeaten, and mix until very smooth. Add to this the melted chocolate.

To 1 cup of sour milk add 1 teaspoon (level) of soda and stir until it foams. Have ready 2½ cups of sifted flour. Combine the milk and flour with the creamed mixture, adding small quantities of each, beating thoroughly.

Fold in a teaspoonful of vanilla the last thing. Have buttered layer cake tins ready, dust with flour and put in the batter smoothly.

Set into a cold oven, turn on the heat and by the time the cake is nicely risen the oven will be hot enough to reduce the heat to low. This way of baking usually produces even-topped cakes. Put together with your favorite chocolate icing.

Baked in a loaf tin, with whole hazel nuts and sliced figs added, you have the popular Fudge Loaf Cake.

TODAY'S RECIPE

Chocolate Steamed Pudding

1 cup sugar
1 cup milk
2 tablespoons melted butter
2 cups flour
2 squares melted chocolate
2 teaspoons baking powder
⅛ teaspoon baking powder
1 teaspoon vanilla
½ cup raisins or dates

This is one time when the flour is measured first and sifted after. We'll do that twice after adding the bakin powder. In the meantime—

Shave up the two squares of chocolate and melt with a little water and a few tablespoonsful of sugar from the amount allowed. Add the butter to the hot chocolate, work in the sugar and milk, salt and vanilla. Beat the flour in smoothly and fold in the floured fruit—and a few nut meats if you want this pudding extra nice. Pour into a buttered pudding mould and steam over hot water for 1 hour.

SOME PEOPLE DON'T CARE WHO MAKES THE CAKE FROSTING

Cover the pudding mould.

When steaming a pudding, the water should come just below the steamer, should be boiling HARD when the pudding is set to cook.

If more water is needed during the cooking period, be sure and add it boiling hot. Change of cooking temperature is what ruins steamed puddings.

A delicious hard sauce to serve with this pudding is made by creaming together butter and brown sugar, gradually working in the juice of half a lemon (or vinegar) and nutmeg for seasoning. Personally I like a thin hot lemon sauce.

There are six generous portions in this pudding; the calories total 2400; individual portions with sauce have a value of 500—energy producers of course.

Man must eat to live, but why not eat so intelligently that he or she retains health and beauty as well?

Certain foods have a direct bearing on clear skins and SPINACH is probably the most important of the common ones—valuable for its great quantity of natural iron and Send a stamped, self-addressed mineral elements. envelope for the current leaflet, GOOD COMPLEXIONS FROM SPINACH, and try some of the interesting ways of serving this vegetable.

TOMORROW we are going to put together a dee-licious Cheese sandwich.

ANN MEREDITH.

Eugene O'Neill Plays Are Discussed By Mrs. Tessmann

Mrs. W. H. DeWolfe and Mrs. J. M. Cloyes were charming hostesses yesterday afternoon when they entertained members of the Ebell Modern Poetry section at the home of Mrs. DeWolfe on North Broadway.

Mrs. John Tessmann was in charge of the afternoon's program and reviewed briefly two of Eugene O'Neill's latest plays, "Lazarus Laughed" and "The Strange Interlude."

Mrs. Tessman pointed out that O'Neill is considered the greatest American dramatist. She told of the plots of the two dramas and discussed the unusual methods with which the great writer handled them. A part of her talk was devoted to O'Neill's poetry.

Following Mrs. Tessmann's lecture, a delightful social hour was enjoyed.

J. A. Cranston Addresses Kindergarten Teachers

The kindergarten teachers of Santa Ana held an interesting meeting at Franklin school on Monday afternoon. J. A. Cranston addressed the teachers relative to the work of the department and stressed the importance of kindergarten training as a preliminary to first grade. The time of dismissals for one session kindergarten was set at 11 o'clock. A progress card for kindergarten children to be sent to parents and to the first grade teachers was also adopted.

Miss Jessie Scott, primary reading teacher at Franklin school, gave a reading demonstration with a group of children who entered the first grade in September.

Plans were made for another meeting to be held in January.

World War Veterans Program Given By Woman's Club

World War Veterans' day was celebrated yesterday afternoon by members of the Santa Ana Woman's club who met at the Church of the Messiah. The interesting program was presented by Mrs. A. P. Nelson, state chairman of the committee on co-operation with World War Veterans.

Mrs. R. E. Downs of Huntington Beach who is county chairman of the World War veterans committee gave a resume of the work accomplished for the veterans at the Hut in Los Angeles. She also displayed a number of articles made by disabled veterans at San Bernardino and Sawtelle. Some of these were purchased by interested women present at yesterday's meeting.

Mrs. Frances McNanser Lane of Los Angeles, well known vocalist, gave three selections. They included Carrie Jacobs Bond's "Honor to the Flag," "'Twas April" by Nevins, and a Plantation melody.

At a short business session it was voted to present the Church of the Messiah with $5 each month in return for the use of the parish hall for meetings of the club.

It was announced that the next meeting of the club would take place November 20 when the subject for the program will be "Child Welfare and Public Health." Hostesses at the affair will include Dr. Evalene Poe, Mrs. E. C. White, and Mrs. J. J. Van Wyk.

The church workers met at 10 a. m. with an unusually large attendance. At noon they repaired to the basement dining-room of the adjacent church building, where a delicious covered dish lunch was enjoyed. The Rev. F. T. Porter offered thanks.

Election of officers was the principal interest of the afternoon. Those chosen to serve with Mrs. Knights were Mrs. E. G. Gable, head of the dining-room; Mrs. Frank Cannon, second vice president; Mrs. L. A. Hill, secretary-treasurer.

As the final feature, the Rev. Mr. Porter, who will soon sever his connection with the church, gave a friendly talk during which he complimented the women of the Aid society on their faithful work, and asked that it might continue for his successor.

MRS. HELEN SEDIVI
4939 National St., Tacony, Phila., Pa.
Philadelphia, Pa.—"I really can't express in writing how much Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me. After my second baby was born I was always tired. I read so much of what the Vegetable Compound has done for others that I gave it a trial. It has certainly done wonders for me. I have praised it to single and to married women and intend to continue it. It seems that taking your medicine has made me a different girl. I also secured Lydia E. Pinkham's Pills for Constipation and they have helped me wonderfully."—Mrs. Helen Sedivi, 4939 National Street, Tacony, Philadelphia, Pa.

The WOMAN'S DAY

by ALLENE SUMNER

The educational plan which Princess Helen, mother of King Michael of Rumania, has worked out for her small son proves again that being of the blood royal does not necessarily prohibit brains, our democratic idea to the contrary. Princess Helen knew that her king son must start to school. She frowned upon private tutoring, the obvious and traditional way in which a king is educated. The public school seemed better to her but not feasible, from the viewpoint of safety.

Therefore Princess Helen has created her own "public private school" for the exclusive use of her small son. Every province of Rumania will send one child to this school. All professions and trades will be represented in the province selections. The princess wishes the little king to know the children of tradesmen and judges, of farmers and laborers. There will be children of all religions and children of different nationalities. And the princess insists that the king pupil must have no special favors and be treated just like any of them. If she is able to find teachers who will do that thing, she is very wise, indeed. Can you imagine anything more democratic, even for the son of a president?

"HUMAN LAWS"

It is refreshing to hear a judge say from his bench that "good humanity sometimes means good law even if the law isn't on the statute books." That's about what a Cleveland judge said the other day in refusing to dismiss a mother's damage case against an undertaking company which, she claimed, took and refused to yield up her son's body. Attorneys contended that in Ohio a mother has no property rights to her child's body; that only a wife or husband has that right. "It's inhuman just the same," said the judge, refusing to dismiss the case. Judges like that are needed, even though they might make a few new legal tangles.

IS IT NEEDED?

Normal schools, colleges, universities and seminaries are asked to "offer more instruction on the subject of human relationships, especially marriage," by the Episcopal church which is recommended in recent convention. It emphasized, too, "the need for adequate training for marriage in the home, school and church, taking the child at his mother's knee and carrying him on through manhood."

I wonder. Sometimes one opines that the extra pamphlets given the serious import of marriage gives it a tantalizing aroma and makes it subject of experiment as it might not be if accepted in a more casual, less tense manner by youth's elders.

FAIRLYAND

A certain woman has re-created Mother Goose through the medium of real estate in a certain section high up on Lookout Mountain. She explains that all her life she has desired to duplicate Mother Goose village and money at last gave her the opportunity. So here it is, "Fairland," with the house of the Three Bears, Hansel's and Gretel's gingerbread house, the house of the old woman who lived in the shoe, and all the rest.

The woman is very sure that the whole world of children will hail her gift with incredulous joy. I wonder. Does a Mother Goose world mean a great deal to the child of this modern world with its airplanes and Zeps and autos and marvels of which Bo-Peep and Little Boy Blue in their agricultural world never dreamed? The piper's son's pig, Miss Muffet's spider, Mary's little lamb, Jack and Jill's hill, must seem rather meaningless to a modern child, who needs a new Mother Goose of the modern world.

My, what a waiter Clowny made. Right by the captain's side he stayed, all ready to run back and forth and bring out food galore. The captain had an appetite that seemed to Clowny near a fright. But, after while the captain said, "I can't eat any more.

"Please, clear the table nice and clean, and make it quite a tidy scene. And then go to the kitchen where there's other work to do. I'll let you wash the dishes there, and, seems to me, it's only fair to call the other Tinies. They will soon be helping you."

The whole bunch to the kitchen went and 'bout a half an hour was spent in fixing things up proper, so the captain wouldn't kick. When they had finished, Scouty said, "It must be time to go to bed. The captain ought to let us, since we've done our work so slick."

But that's where they were badly fooled. The captain very shortly ruled that they must keep on working till the moon rose in the sky. Then he explained, "I've always found that hard work makes you sleep real sound. There's much for you to do for me before you close an eye.

"Down underneath the deck we'll go. I've something there I want to show. Just trail along behind me. It won't take you very long. Soon Scouty said, "Well, bless my soul! I guess that we're to shovel coal." "You bet you are," the captain cried. "You all look pretty strong."

The work was hard as it could be, but they all worked on merrily until their legs and arms grew tired, and Scouty bravely said, "What work we've done, we've done up right. Please let us turn in for tonight." "All right!" replied the captain. "You can all run off to bed."

(The Tinymites scrub the deck in the next story.)

YOUR CHILDREN

By Olive Roberts Barton

Every child should have a certain amount of privacy—of room, time, and ownership.

In a house where there is more than one child it is not possible, often, to give each a room to himself. Yet we often see homes with two or three children in one room so that the family can have a guest-chamber that lies idle almost from one year's end to the other.

Too often it is the biggest, sunniest room in the house.

Babies and young children, according to the time-honored custom, are persistently regarded as "extras" in the family budgeting of space, and often are given an odd bed in some corner of a room occupied by other people. As they get older the thought of room space is given more consideration. It should be reversed, however. No one in the family needs a room to himself so much as the baby. This, of course, is for reasons of health.

Every child adores his own room. It is something for him to live up to. It increases his self-respect and gives him that static feeling that psychologists tell us is necessary as a foundation on which to build other desirable character traits.

Lacking space for that, a wise mother will divide a room, giving each little occupant certain pieces of furniture for his own. No matter how small he is he should have certain drawers or an entire bureau or chest that absolutely belong to him, his own bed if possible, and a specific portion of closet space.

I also should give every growing boy and girl in the house what might be called "privacy of time." That is, a certain part of every day, be it only an hour, to read or walk or play without interference from others. He needs it. We all need a few minutes to ourselves now and then—for our own soul's sake, we might say.

Then there is privacy of ownership. What pride a child takes in his own things! Teach him to lend and to be unselfish, but I never believed much in half-interest toys. All children cherish their own possessions. If things are their very own they will learn to take care of them much more quickly than if there is joint ownership with other children.

It all comes to this: children have rights that should be respected.

What Doctors Say About the Laxative Habit

What do YOU do when the bowels need a little assistance? If you clearup the condition with some laxative made with CASCARA, there is nothing better for the system—for the blood.

But if you don't KNOW the laxative you have learned to depend on is of harmless cascara, here's some truly valuable advice:

The bark of a tree called cascara is the most marvelous conditioner mankind has yet found. It stimulates the bowel's musclar action, but does NOT weaken. A violent laxative forms the laxative HABIT. You always need more on the morrow. With cascara, you don't. Its gentle influence carries on sometimes for days. With less and less need of any aid, as time goes on.

So, the very next time you feel sluggish, take only a candy Cascaret. Delightful to the taste, sweet and acceptable to any stomach, and just as efficient as the powerful purges that fairly paralyze the peristaltic walls of one's intestines. The only habit you'll get from Cascarets is the one of going weeks and months without ANY help of the kind. And when you do invoke their aid again, the same small dose suffices. Any doctor can tell you about cascara; and any druggist has the candy Cascarets.—Adv.

CASCARETS
They Work While You Sleep

AT THE THEATER

YOST BROADWAY

At last a real reel comedienne, a girl who is hilariously funny, is offered to the movie loving public. She is Majorie Beebe and she plays her first featured role in "The Farmer's Daughter" which is on the screen at the Broadway theater.

She is said to be red haired and, despite her best not to appear so, very pretty and, this is where she differs from other female funsters, a natural comic whose every movement is a cause for laughter. Not alone Miss Beebe but a fine cast and a real story also help make this picture an entertainment worth seeing.

Arthur Stone, who first gained fame in vaudeville, plays the part of the confidence man who finds that in a battle of wits he is no match for the farmer's daughter. Warren Burke, Sam De Grass, Lincoln Steadman and Harry Dunkinson also have important roles in this delightful picture. Arthur Rosson's direction is splendid.

WEST COAST-WALKER

Suspense—like that of a great detective story—marks the unfolding of Emil Jannings' latest staring picture, "The Patriot," which Ernst Lubitsch directed for Paramount and which is showing at the Walker theater.

Plotting against an emperor who boasted that every man in his kingdom was under the direct surveillance of the police is the dangerous and exciting work which falls to the lot of Lewis Stone, who, with Florence Vidor, plays opposite Jannings in this picture.

Laid in the court of the Czar Paul the First of Russia, "The Patriot" brings a gorgeousness of production as a background for an enthralling story, which has rarely been viewed on a local screen. Despite the fact that the audience is always conscious of an enormous palace, great numbers of soldiers, peasantry and the plains of Russia, attention is never once detracted from the handful of people used to tell an engrossing and fascinating story. Emil Jannings as Czar Paul gives a characterization which deserves to be placed beside portrayals which have already made him one of the greatest pantomimists of all time.

As "The Patriot," Lewis Stone presents a character which is finer than anything he has done since "Scaramouche." Florence Vidor as the Countess Ostermann moves through the sequences of this picture with convincing realism and a suavity which stamps her as one of the screen's finished artists.

WEST END

Dick Sutherland, who was made famous by his work in Harold Lloyd's "Grandma's Boy" picture, plays one of the heavy villains in "The Flying Fool," the Sunset Production featuring Dick Grace with Wanda Hawley and Gaston Glass, and now on at the West End theater.

Dick won his fame as a "brute heavy" and has resigned himself to his fate—that he will never be able to play anything else because the casting directors just simply won't let him. In looks and build Dick has everything that a screen bad man is supposed to have, and the casting directors quarrel among themselves as to who will secure his services.

"Night Life," a Tiffany production, is the second attraction at the West End.

Alice Day, beautiful and winsome as the little waif and then later as the beer garden waitress in Vienna is charming and portrays her role in a manner that is sure to bring her further honors on the screen. Johnny Harron and Eddie Gribbon as the pair of lovable rascals are splendid while the excellent cast includes Walter Hiers, Lionel Braham, Patricia Avery, Kitty Barlow, Earl Metcalf, Snitz Edwards, Violet Palmer and Lydia Yeamans Titus.

COUNTY BOY IS MEMBER OF SOUSA BAND

is proving to be the most interesting affair in the history of the band, according to the Orange county member, who has expressed to his Fullerton relatives his personal satisfaction at being a part of the organization and the pride each individual member feels in the unstinted praise from writers and critics generally.

Adding to the interest of the appearance here is the fact that Sousa himself has asked the Santa Ana high school band to play one number on tomorrow's program and the organization of 30 youths has chosen the famous "Washington Post March," for which the composer himself will take the director's platform and baton.

Additional courtesy extended this city has taken the form of a compliment to S. J. Mustol, director of the high school band and director of orchestra in the city schools. For Sousa will direct his band in the rendition of the overture to Mustol's own composition, "In the Land of the Missions," which has received such favorable comment wherever it has been played.

Program Announced

The program will open with "A Study in Rhythms" (Sousa) followed by a cornet solo, "Soldier's Dream," by Rogers, played by William Tong; Sousa's suite, "At the King's Court," by the band; soprano solo, "The Beautiful Blue Danube," by Strauss, sung by Miss Marjorie Moody; Prelude and Love's Death from Wagner's "Tristan and Isolde," by the band; the Santa Ana high school band number, "Washington Post March"; the Mustol overture, "In the Land of the Missions"; favorite numbers from Victor Herbert operas, by the band; "Parade of the Gendarmes" (Lake) and "Minnesota," (Sousa) by the band; xylophone solo, "Ghosts of the Warrior," (Grossman) by Howard Goulden, and "Dance of the Hours," (Ponchielli) by the band.

Students comprising the Santa Ana high school band, to be given such a prominent place on the program, are Miss Bernice Adams, Munroe Birdsall, Albert Copeland, Clarence Eddy, Reeves Crawford, Ed. Farnsworth, Corwin Frazee, Dale Fuller, Carlton Buck, Newell Garlock, Delta Garlock, Jack Granger, Lehman Gerken, Asa Herren, Grant Holt, Algernon Howell, John Huddleston, George Huntoon, Carl Kent, Wendell Lukens, Ervin Meador, Dave McDougal, Everett Pearce, Bob Smith, Carlton Smith, Bertren Smith, Edgar Thomas, James Thomas, Wesley Wallace, Don Young.

TALBERT

Two changes were made in the Talbert election board on account of the illness of John Pope, original board member, Clyde Ellis and Louis Bushard taking the place of Pope and his son, Fred Pope. S. E. Talbert, J. O. Harper, Harry Fulton and Earl Lamb were on the board.

Goldie and Vera Klute, of the Nimock tract, are both confined to their home by illness. Both are pupils of the Fountain Valley grammar school.

The sacrament was administered at the Church service at the Talbert Methodist church, south, on Sunday evening and a special musical number was rendered by S. Y. Garrison, son-in-law of the Rev. and Mrs. L. S. Jones, who was a visitor in Talbert from Norwalk.

Announcement was made of a missionary conference to be held for the charges of Greenville and Talbert at the Greenville church Thursday of this week, a basket luncheon to be served.

Next Sunday morning Mrs. L. S. Jones will occupy the pulpit at the Greenville church in the absence of the pastor, the Rev. L. S. Jones, who will be in Norwalk, his former charge, that day to baptise several infants at the morning service hour.

Mr. and Mrs. S. Y. Garrison, Miss Shepherd and Mrs. Elizabeth Archer and Mrs. Flora Arnold, of Norwalk, attended evening church services in Talbert Sunday.

The monthly meeting of the Newbert Protection district and the Talbert Drainage district were held Monday. Bills were paid by both boards. A report on dredger work was made for each district and satisfactory work was reported as having been done by Engineer Harry Harper and crew of the Newbert district, and Engineer Louis Bushard of the Talbert district. This was the first report to go in from the new Talbert dredger, which has been in use one month.

John Pope, director on the Talbert district board was unable to be present on account of illness. Mr. Pope is quite ill at his home with pneumonia and a trained nurse is attending him.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert and two daughters and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Gisler and Miss Lucille Gisler, of this place, with Mr. and Mrs. Whitten and family, of Los Alamitos, were entertained at dinner Sunday in the Santa Ana home of Samuel Gisler.

Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Hoeptner and family spent Sunday at Pasadena, where they motored as guests of Mrs. Hoeptner's mother, Mrs. George Scott.

Mr. and Mrs. Rittenhouse, of Glendale, came Sunday to Talbert, where they were guests of Mrs. Rittenhouse's cousin, Mrs. S. E. Talbert. Upon their return Sunday evening they were accompanied by Mrs. Rittenhouse's mother, Mrs. Josie Shrode, who was returning to her home at Eagle Rock following an extended visit in the Talbert home.

Marriage Subject Of Dr. Burke In Jr. College Talk

Attorney Maxwell Burke addressed the students of the junior college today on the subject, "The History of Marriage and Divorce."

Dr. Burke traced the history of human marriage from the earliest known customs of savage tribes to the present romantic period of marriage and argued that civilization is in a transition period of marriage looking toward the time when physical, mental and economic fitness will take the place of the emotional romanticism of the present.

He pointed out the causes of divorce and insisted that the present economic independence of women probably is the greatest contributing cause.

Divorce, he said, should be made easier where there are no children —and even where there are children they will be better off after divorce of parents who have learned to hate each other.

Mount Etna Lava Ruins Villages

CANTANIA, Sicily, Nov. 7.—(UP)—A wide path of ruin past the villages of Nunslata and Puntalassp and through the little hamlet of Mascali marked today the path of an ever advancing wall of molten lava which flowed from the crater of Mount Etna down the beautiful · Pietrafucila-Vallonazzo valley.

Moving forward, crushing houses, vineyards and rich farm lands, the main lava stream had joined with several others from the crater and was nearly 14 feet thick and more than a mile wide. Houses crumbled under the intense heat before the lava reached them and trees were withered and destroyed while the stream was still 100 yards away.

STOCK MARKET RUNS RAMPANT THIS MORNING

By FRANK CHARLTON
INS Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, Nov. 7.—Amid scenes of pandemonium on the floor of the New York stock exchange, while brokers fought to execute buying orders, a new bull movement, which many brokers believed to be the beginning of a "Hoover market," set in this morning.

Buying orders poured in from all over the United States, putting some issues to the highest price in years and some up to record tops. The boom extended from the "big board" to the curb, but the commodity markets felt little effect.

All sections of the stock list, but especially the oils and industrials were in the forefront of the upswing.

Curtiss Motors jumped 10 points on the first few sales, going to 144¾.

Standard Oil of New Jersey, the parent of the many Standard Oil companies scattered all over the United States, rose 2⅛ points to 52½, the highest price at which it had sold since the recapitalization in 1922.

General Motors, whose finance chairman, John J. Raskob, has engineered [illegible] Alfred E. Smith's campaign, sold at a new high price for all time. In furious buying these shares went to 224½.

Investors joined hands with speculators in shoving up prices. It was evident from the trend of the market and from the viewpoint of Wall Street experts, that the investors and speculators expect President-elect Hoover to continue the business policies of Calvin Coolidge and that he will lend his aid to industrial expansion.

The public utility company shares were in big demand, indicating that the investing public expects this branch of industry to have a friend in the next administration.

The buying wave swept from the "big board" to the curb. Electric Bond and Share company, which is a holding company controlling many public utility enterprises throughout the eastern part of the United States, rose 5 points on the curb.

A tip off on what to expect in the New York stock exchange had come from London two hours before the New York market opened. American shares on the London exchange began to soar as soon as that market opened, many of the buying orders having come from the United States.

So frantic was the flood of buying orders here that, in the 45 minutes the Wall street quotation ticker, was 20 minutes behind the market, despite the recent improvements to speed up the service.

Many buying orders had accumulated since Monday afternoon when the market closed for election day, for large numbers of shrewd investors had felt that the election of Mr. Hoover was certain and played their judgment with big orders to buy "down the list."

The Wall street plungers, for this time at least, were on the side of the "lambs" for all were buying.

During the first hour the indications were it would be one of the biggest market days in the history of the New York exchange.

LIVES 100 YEARS WITHOUT WEDDING

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 7.—(UP)—Leopold Cahn, who celebrated his 100th birthday here recently refuses to permit his age to warp his viewpoints.

The centenarian is alert of mind, quite active for his years and keeps abreast of modern times by reading newspapers and conversing with the younger generation, he said.

"It depends on who wears 'em," Cahn said when asked to state his choice—short skirts or hoopskirts.

"No. I don't like automobiles. They are too bumpy. But I would like to ride in an airplane," said the centenarian as he knocked the ashes from a much used pipe.

"Girls? I like them. I never married any of them. I always just liked 'em," said Cahn, adding that he though bobbed hair was "magnifique."

'I AM GRATIFIED,' CURTIS DECLARES

CHICAGO, Nov. 7.—"I am gratified with the returns," Sen. Charles Curtis of Kansas said today in the first public statement he has made since his election to the vice presidency.

Curtis arrived in Chicago from Topeka, where he voted yesterday, and planned to leave at 10:10 a. m. on the Baltimore and Ohio for Washington. He slept all night and did not know the result of the election until he was awakened this morning as his train approached Chicago.

MIDDLETOWN, N. Y., Nov. 7.—Patrick Hanley, a farm laborer, is believed to hold the record for intoxication in this section of the state. Hanley, 64 years old, has been held on the charge 67 times, police records show.

PREDICTION OF EARTH SHOCKS HELD POSSIBLE

By CECIL OWEN
United Press Staff Corespondent

WASHINGTON, Nov. 5.—Scientific study of earthquakes holds promise, Dr. William Bowie of the U. S. Coast and Geodetic Survey told the United Press today, adding that within the next decade or two it will be possible to forecast where and when these devastating shocks are going to occur.

Although 8000 large and small earthquakes are recorded annually on seismographs, scientists are unable to tell what region will be hit next or the approximate intensity of the disturbance.

"The earthquake," Dr. Bowie pointed out, "is one of the most mysterious natural phenomena, but it is only a question of time, and that time we hope is not far distant, when we shall know a great deal about earthquakes."

The foundation for the present knowledge of earthquake causes was laid more than 100 years ago when the theory was advanced that the earth's crust is a floating mass resting in equilibrium on a dense sub-crustal material. Experiments conducted by the Coast and Geodetic Survey in recent years have confirmed this theory, now called the isostatic principle.

"With the proof of isostasy, we are now able," Dr. Bowie said, "to make at least a fair guess and probably even an accurate one, as to the real causes of earthquakes."

From his studies along this line, Dr. Bowie has concluded that the most fruitful source of earthquakes is the breaking of rock as a new mountain system is being formed.

This, he declared, explained the many earthquakes in California for the Coast Range is still in the process of formation; it is a new mountain system that has not yet attained maturity.

Every mountain system that exists today, he explained, occupies an area that, in a previous geological age, was at or below sea level. In the uplifting movement to form a mountain, a tremendous amount of breaking and crushing of the crustal material, especially the cold and brittle rock near the surface, would occur.

As the resistance of the upper crust to this great pressure would not be uniform, the upward movement would be irregular. "Where the movement is slow, the surface rocks will be distorted, bent and folded, while if the movement is rapid, rock will break and earthquakes will occur," Dr. Bowie added. This is not the sole cause of earthquakes, but Dr. Bowie believes it to be foremost.

Possibility of an earthquake so tremendous that the entire earth would be destroyed was discounted by Dr. Bowie, who explained that the thousands of small earthquakes every year lessen the chance of larger ones occuring. "The more earthquakes we have the safer we are," Dr. Bowie said, adding:

"The earth should be thought of as a weak structure, yielding to small stresses, never permitting them to accumulate to the point where tremendous disasters will occur from the shocks involved in the readjustment. We must become reconciled to the fact that we shall have earthquakes as long as we have rain."

THIEF MAY PICK YOU OUT OF 1943

SACRAMENTO, Nov. 7.—(UP)—When you walk home from the theater tonight, there is one chance in 1943 that a thug will poke a gun into your ribs and say, "Stick 'em up."

Or, if you escape that experience, you have one more chance in 1229 that you'll find your home burglarized when you enter.

These figures were compiled by Clarence Morrill, chief of the state bureau of criminal identification, from state records.

The average Californian, Morrill says, also has one chance in 58,723 of being kidnapped. He stands a better chance of having his home robbed than to recover a bad check, as the latter shows only one chance in 1625.

Cops In Germany Have Tail Lights

MUEHLHAUSEN, Germany, Nov. 5.—The police of this city have been presented with medals of carved red glass to be fastened at the rear of their belts on the principle of an automobile tail light.

A recent series of accidents to traffic policemen convinced the authorities that some means of protection ought to be provided. The pieces of glass have been christened "cat's eyes." They are the size of half dollars and cut in diamond shapes so that they sparkle brilliantly in an automobile headlight.

Queen Of Sweden Gets An Island

CARLSRUHE, Germany, Nov. 5.—Under the will of the last Grand Duke of Baden, who died recently, his sister, Queen Victoria of Sweden, becomes the owner of the Island of Mainau, in Lake Constance. This island is noted for its semi-tropical temperature. Palms and even banana trees flourish on it. It has been the private property of the grand ducal family since 1853, and Queen Victoria has passed her summers there for for many years.

EGG STANDARD ADVOCATED BY STATE EXPERT

SACRAMENTO, Nov. 10—A definite standard for grading eggs is the most vital need for the improvement of the industry in California, according to Henry G. H. Hamann of the federal-state crop reporting service.

"With the adoption of U. S. standards will come an improvement of quality, which in turn will lead to an increased consumption," Hamann stated.

"Trading in all markets is still largely in brands and reputation of the shipper or district of origin. This system is complicated and involved, since a large volume of eggs is moved into the larger terminal markets from all parts of the country, each within certain limits having a different range of quality.

Edison, Pershing, Ford Invited To California Fair

SACRAMENTO, Nov. 10.—Three famous Americans have expressed their desire to attend California's diamond jubilee state fair next September, according to letters received by Charles W. Paine, secretary of the State Agricultural society.

They are Thomas A. Edison, Gen. John J. Pershing and Henry Ford.

Samples of prize winning fruit from the fair this year were sent to them with invitations to attend the jubilee. All expressed the hope that they would be able to arrange their affairs so they might attend, Paine said.

State Campaigns Against Illegal Use Of Lug Boxes

SACRAMENTO, Nov. 10—A drive against the illegal use of lug boxes and fruit containers has been started by the bureau of fruit and vegetable standardization, the state department of agriculture announced here today.

According to the department, some peddlers and dealers have been gathering up the empty containers with the labels of the growers and shipper intact, and refilling them with fruit of inferior grade.

The standardization act of 1927 prohibits use of false or misleading labels on containers and violators of the law are subject to prosecution, the department announced.

NEW YORK STOCKS

By ELMER C. WALZER
(United Press Financial Editor)

NEW YORK, Nov. 7.—Post-election trading on the stock exchange and curb market today took on semblance of the rosy days of the "Coolidge bull market" of the late spring and prices were enthusiastically bid up one to more than 11 points in trading which swamped tickers.

The tape at one time was more than three-quarters of an hour late and business in early dealings was at a pace of more than 6,000,000 shares for a full day. Toward the close business quieted down somewhat and tickers caught up partially. Traders said the Republican victory was responsible for the rise.

In addition to soaring prices in the utilities, oil shares as a group were bid up in tremendous turnover. Open prices were accompanied by sales involving 10,000 to 20,000 shares and a long list of the oil issues made new highs.

Utilities likewise made new highs in many sections. In the afternoon buying took on broader proportions in the copper group. Sensational gains were scored by Greene Cananea and Kennecott. Magma, International Nickel and Anaconda also were in demand.

Airplane shares spurted more than 11 points for Wright and more than 8 for Curtis. General Motors made a new high for the present shares, while U. S. Steel moved sharply higher.

BONDS

NEW YORK, Nov. 7.—Eclipsed by the sweeping gains in the stock market, bonds did little more than hold their own in the early dealings today. Later, however, trading became more active and advances were scored throughout the list with the convertibles featuring. An easier tone in time money and reinvestment of end of the month interest and dividend payments helped the list.

Barnsdall 6s with warrants rose two points to a new high close above 144 and held most of the gain while Andes 7s were whirled up more than four points and public service of New Jersey convertible soared to within a fraction of their high before meeting profit taking. Anaconda 7's and Dodge were fractionally higher. Rubbers, oils and rails were in demand.

St. Paul 5's of 1975 led a demonstration upward in the rails, rising more than a point. The adjustment 5's also were higher and good gains were scored by Wabash 4½s. Southern Pacific convertible 4s of 1929 and Erie Refunding 5s. Southern Railway veneral 4s and Pacific 4½s eased slightly.

The Helpfulness of Want Ads

We know a woman in moderate circumstances who had a living room suite, but wanted a new one. We know a young married couple, looking for an economical start, who read her For Sale ad in The Register.

She sold the suite to them, and with the money obtained, made quite a large down payment on the desired new suite.

The young couple cretonned the old one and you ought to see it.

Thrifty Santa Ana Housewives can find many uses for Register Classified Ads. For example, see today's "Miscellaneous For Sale" classification.

EVENING SALUTATION

One ship drives east and another west,
While the self same breezes blow;
'Tis the set of the sail and not the gale
That bids them where to go.
—Ella Wheeler Wilcox.

A GREAT CHOICE

We desire to congratulate the people of Santa Ana, and of Orange county; yes, and of our entire country on the wonderful expression of their sentiment yesterday. A greater percentage of the voters have voted than we have found at the polls for more than two generations.

In the wisdom of the people, they have selected a man as chief executive whom in this fast moving industrial and mechanical age, comprehends what it is all about, is able to gather the ends together and to weave them into form and purpose as no other man, who has been in public life, is able to do. It would seem that Mr. Hoover has been, through this vote, actually providentially chosen as was Lincoln and Washington.

The world has reached the scientific age and this great Republic has placed at its head now a master mind who understands the problems which he will meet and will give to the world a better working plan for the solution than, we believe, any other man who might have been elected could have been able to do.

He is a man pre-eminently fitted for this hour from the standpoint of the shrinking size of the world. He is not only a great and loyal citizen of our republic but he thinks internationally. To him the people across the Atlantic are not Europeans but neighbors and friends. Thinking in this manner he sees the solution of complex international problems as he does of domestic and local ones.

While we congratulate Herbert Hoover, our country and the world are the real beneficiaries.

THE SUPREME NEED

We doubt seriously if the Democratic party will, for a long period of time, again be placed in a better position for achievement than they were at the time of the Houston convention. While our wheels of industry were buzzing, there had been a degree of corruption in our public life at Washington, connected with certain well-known men, which was the most shameful and far-reaching that we had ever experienced and there had been little serious effort to enforce the 18th amendment and the Volstead act. It had been for the most part in the hands of the people who were indifferent and some of whom were positively hostile.

A great moral issue, two-fold in its character, was hereby placed before the people. And the party of protest, which is the position that the Democratic party must assume, might have risen to the occasion and given our country such a moral awakening and such a thorough housecleaning as would have had an enduring influence for two generations. The south, solidly prohibition, was in prime condition to form the backbone of such a movement. The spirit of patriotism appealed to every citizen toward that end. The great body of Christian men and women who had been fighting for prohibition and law enforcement for 30 years desired this very thing. They wanted a standard bearer whose battle cry should be "onward and forward" and to positively enforce the law. But no! At this supreme moment of opportunity the Democratic leaders surrendered the great privilege and chose rather a man who turned toward the setting than the rising sun. They chose rather to compete with the administration party, by actually purposing to do worse on the liquor question, and no better in respect to placing in power an organization on corruption.

We believe in the Republican party. We believe in its achievement. But we also believe that the best interests of this country can be conserved by a real party of protest. We believe that this country needs a party which is watchful of every alliance that has been made by any part of the administration with wrong-doers and assaults such attitude and brings it into the light for the purpose, either of cleansing and purifying or defeating the administration.

It is a sad time in the history of political activity in the United States when instead of being in a position where this attitude can be assumed, the leaders of the protest party actually vie with one another to get aid from the enemies of law and order who would undermine the very foundations of the Republic.

The country is calling for leadership of the higher kind. There is a great opportunity. Josephus Daniels, by his attitude, has been weighed in the balance and found wanting. Governor Dan Moody, whom if he had gone one step farther, would have been the man of the hour, has failed. Mr. McAdoo will be able, probably, to command considerable of the remnants if he thinks it is worth while.

But before anything serious can be hoped for along this line, new alignments must be made and new leaders must appear.

OUR LOCAL CANDIDATES

The Register desires to congratulate Mr. C. H. Chapman on his selection as County Supervisor. His was the only contest of a local character we had in Santa Ana.

The two men who were running for Supervisor were both capable and well-known. The vote was close during the early portions of the evening, and the friends of each had reason to have some confidence that their respective candidate would win, until along in the late hours when Mr. Chapman forged ahead.

Nelson Edwards, as candidate for State Senator and Edward Craig as candidate for Assembly had no opposition. Orange County and this Senatorial District are to be well represented in our legislative halls. There will be no stronger counsel sent from any county.

THE MEANING OF THE VOTE

The people have spoken. Herbert Hoover has been elected president of the United States by the greatest electoral vote which any man has received in the history of the nation. The result has been reached by an election which amounts to little short of a political revolution. The solid South, which has been cemented together since the outbreak of the Civil War, for the first time broke from its allegiance to Democracy and some of its states were carried by the candidate on the Republican ticket for president.

The tremendous avalanche of votes which were cast in all sections of the country against the candidate on the Democratic ticket should not be misinterpreted. It cannot intelligently be construed as an approval of all that has taken place in the national administration during the last eight years. It is not a change of party allegiance from Democratic to Republican. It was simply a supreme revolt on the part of millions of men and women from an attempt to thrust upon them principles against which their intelligence and their conscience revolted.

The almost unanimity with which the states have in this election, preferred Mr. Hoover to Mr. Smith, lays upon Mr. Hoover the solemn obligation to accept the responsibility and opportunity in the spirit and character in which it has been bestowed and rising above all partisan consideration to carry out this expressed will with the singular ability with which he has been endowed. Unquestionably, Herbert Hoover as president of the United States will do this.

The people have shown their faith in him. They have had reason to show that faith. He will meet it as he has met every challenge to his ability and character in his marvelously successful life.

The chief note which has been sounded by this election has been that of a determination of the people of the United States that, in respect to the 18th amendment and the Volstead Act, there shall be no retreat. The effort of Mr. Smith and his wet colleagues to make this election a nationwide referendum on the liquor question has succeeded. The index finger of the composite figure of the people of the United States points definitely along the road to the observance of the constitution and the law. The enforcement of both in a manner that will forever remove from among the possibilities of the future the opportunity for any candidate to believe that he can make a successful contest on the proposition to repeal the law because of the failure of the constitutional authorities to enforce it, is Mr. Hoover's opportunity.

This campaign has not been a politician's campaign. Herbert Hoover has not been elected president of the United States by this overwhelming majority because of prosperity or of the tariff. There was no belief anywhere that the election of Mr. Smith would change our tariff laws, and the attitude of Wall street at all times in respect to Mr. Smith is sufficient evidence that they were not afraid of his adversely affecting the prosperous conditions. But the candidacy of Mr. Smith, by the whole attitude which he assumed from the beginning, even contrary to one of the planks in his own platform actually shocked the conscience because it was so contrary to the traditions and the convictions of the great mass of the American people everywhere, north and south.

President-elect Hoover has had placed in his hands by this rare vote of confidence the greatest opportunity that has ever come to a president to perform a holy mission on behalf of the constitutions of law, of character, and of sobriety. He must know that there were literally millions of men and women who at the time of this choice, voted for him in spite of the fact that they did not approve of the corruption and crookedness and the silence concerning it in high places in our country. But rather did they vote for him because they were dissatisfied with that condition and of the two candidates, he, by far, offered the greatest assurance that this condition would no longer prevail.

The Democratic party, at the time of the Houston convention, bartered, temporarily, its soul for a mess of pottage. They nominated Mr. Smith, whose attitude on some of the most important moral questions, was the most serious challenge to their deepest convictions. They did this, forsooth, because they wanted to win, and they chose him to win because of their certainty that he would carry the state of New York, and that no Democrat could hope to be elected without New York.

The politicians at this convention representing Texas, Virginia, Florida, Tennessee and Kentucky, placed this man in nomination regardless of the convictions of their constituents. They did it to obtain the loaves and fishes, by winning the election, and the inducement was the state of New York. But the outraged citizens of the southern states would not stand for that kind of a bargain and in the cataclysm that resulted even New York refused to be a party to the scheme and deserted the candidate.

Our people are exceedingly fortunate in such a campaign, in that they have selected a man, keen in his intellectual and moral discernment, who sees clearly the meaning of this great vote of confidence and then has the ability and the intelligence to respond to it. We may be confident that after such an election, with such an expression and with such a president, the enforcement of the Volstead Act and the 18th amendment will not be placed in the hands of any man who is indifferent to its observance. But he knows that to carry this expressed will of the people into effect there must be placed in that position a man who knows full well the real relationship between liberty and law; a man who believes that this great social experiment in our democracy can only have a real chance by insisting that every officer in the country shall consider the infraction of this law an undermining of the very purpose for which the government exists, and proceed to its enforcement with absolute zeal.

This must be done, and we know that we have the man that can do it.

More Truth Than Poetry

A RETRACTION

I've never been to Poland
And always have I thought
That all the Poles were warlike souls
Who mostly always fought.
I ignorantly fancied
That all the day and night
Their country rang with martial clang
And tumult of the fight.

I often pitied Poland,
A shame it seemed to me
She had to strive to keep alive
And struggle to be free,
While far across the water
Dwell safely every day
The people of the land we love
To wit: the U. S. A.

But I was much mistaken;
The Poles need not despair
They're up to date, I've learned of late,
And have some night clubs there.
And recently the sheriff
Dropped in to pay a call
And in a gay and playful way
Clapped padlocks on them all.

No more I pity Poland,
At last I've got her right;
The common lot of Poles is not
Each passing day to fight.
With padlocks on their night clubs
I cheerfully allow
The Poles are quite, at least by night,
As free as we are now!

CAUGHT!

It has been learned that news of crime constitutes only 1.4 percent of the news printed in the papers, so that the people who complain that they print nothing much else probably have not been looking for anything but crime news.

Dr. Frank Crane's Friendly Talk

By Dr. Frank Crane

TETHERED MINDS

A dangerous delusion is thinking you think.

If you think your mind is thinking when it is just swallowing you imagine that your ideas are based on logic when they are resting only on hearsay.

Most minds are tethered minds.

They are like animals tethered to stakes in large fields.

They may go just so far in one direction and then they mustn't go any farther, so far in the other direction and then they have to stop.

After that they can spend the rest of their natural life walking around and around at the length of the rope—no farther.

This rope which limits thought is made of many strands.

Some of them are: the pressure of public opinion, heredity, superstition, environmental condtiions, the love of ease, the love of certainty, the love of system, the fear of the unknown, party feeling, professional interest, social position, domestic happiness, ambition, prejudice.

To go beyond the set limits of what society in general thinks and come to conclusions that are frowned upon if they seem to be true, means ignoring some or all of these.

These strands make a strong rope. It keeps most minds from thinking except in a "safe" way about "safe" subjects.

It is the rare individual who has the strength of mind and character to break this rope and follow what seems to be the truth no matter what the consequences.

For, to really seek the truth, means, as Lecky reminds us in his famous "History of European Morals," "to be prepared to follow the light of evidence even to the most unwelcome conclusions; to labor earnestly to emancipate the mind from earlier prejudices; to resist the current of desires and the refracting influences of the passions; to proportion on all occasions conviction to evidence, and to be ready, if need be, to exchange the calm of assurance for all the suffering of a perplexed and disturbed mind."

Emerson put the same idea with his characteristic succinctness when he said every man has to choose between truth and rest.

Little Benny's Note Book by Lee Pape

This afternoon my sister Gladdisses frend Sara Hart came to see her on account of her going to get married soon too, and they was telling each other about how thrilling they felt and the diffrent dresses they was getting and everything, and Sara Hart sed, How about a linen shower, are the gerls going to give you a linen shower?

I really havent thawt about such a thing, Gladdis sed. Personly as a matter of fact I consider linen showers and things of that sort the last werd in vulgarity wen you think it amounts pure and simply to nuthing but an excure to save a few trifling expenses by brazenly bumming a few household fernishings from your frends, altho goodness knows I could use any amount of linen.

Thats just a way I feel about those kind of things, Sara Hart sed. Altho nobody that Ive herd of has mentioned getting one up for me, still at the same time its quite a relief to know that your frends arent being told in so many werds to go out and do your shopping for you at their own expense, I think your quite rite. Besides if I had my choice of the kind of a shower Id prefer I wulden choose a linen shower, I have so much lovely linen that any linen the gerls would give me would come as an anty climax. Wat Id choose would be an allumminum shower for my kitchin, Im crazy about alluminum, it shines, so wen you shine it, ony of corse you haff to shine it, she sed.

Well my dear, I'm glad I know it. Gladdis sed. Ill be delighted to suggest it to the gerls as being my own personal ideer, she sed, and Sara Hart sed, Well now I never dreemed of any sutch a thing and its just peachy of you to think of it, and Im going to get rite to werk and drop a few hints about giving you a linen shower, in fact Ill set the ball rolling myself.

Well now thats just two sweet of you, it would never of occurred to me in a million years, Gladdis sed.

And they started to write down lists of the best gerls to tawk to ferst, and I herd the fellows wisseling and went out.

THE IDEAS OF COMMON MEN

I have a friend who is now and then disturbed by the thought of the president of a university dealing from day to day, as I am trying to do, with the issues and ideas that vex the minds of common men everywhere rather than with the ideas and issues that make up the daily conversation of scholarly specialists in their laboraties and libraries.

I think I have excellent precedents—in fact, precedents I have no right to invoke, because I am unworthy to walk with them.

"His words are ridiculous when you first hear them," a contemporary said of Socrates, "for his talk is of pack-asses, and smiths, and cobblers, and curriers, and he is always repeating the same things in the same words."

"You are always talking of cobblers and fullers and cooks and doctors, as if this had to do with our argument," one of his associates once said to Socrates.

"It was the method of Aristotle in approaching ethical problems," says an English scholar, "to begin with a consideration of what was commonly said and thought about them by, as we say nowadays, the man in the street. He held, as surely with reason, that from such popular notions there was much to be learned."

When Addison, along with Steele, founded the Spectator, he said that he was "ambitious to have it said" of him that he had "brought philosophy out of closets and libraries, schools and colleges, to dwell in clubs and assemblies, at tea-tables and coffee-houses."

And then I find George Santayana, one of the superb scholars and philosophers of our time, saying in the preface to one of his recent books, the following:

"I have a great respect for orthodoxy; not for those orthodoxies which prevail in particular schools or nations, and which vary from age to age, but for a certain shrewd orthodoxy which the sentiment and practice of laymen maintain everywhere.

"I think that common sense, in a rough dogged way, is technically sounder than the special schools of philosophy, each of which squints and overlooks half the facts and half the difficulties in its eagerness to find in some detail the key to the whole.

"I am animated by distrust of all high guesses, and by sympathy with the old prejudices and workaday opinions of mankind. They are ill expressed, but they are well grounded."

All in all, there seems pretty good precedent for men of the universities turning their attention to the problems and perplexities of the man in the street.

OUR CHILDREN

By ANGELO PATRI

THOU SHALT

It is very much better to say, "Thou shalt," than "Thou shalt not." Many a boy—and girl—in the early teens takes money from the home purse. No allowance seems to be sufficient for their needs.

The first impulse of the frightened parent is to say, "Thou shalt not steal," and thereafter, to keep on saying that in louder tones and more words.

That does not help. The child who takes money this way is trying to satisfy his want of association with other children, his desire to enjoy many things that are old to his parents but new and delightful to him. He—and she—want to go to the movies ALL the time. They want to drink ice cream sodas every day. They want to ride in taxicabs every evening. We don't.

Until this want is satisfied the desire for the means to fulfill it will live and grow. It is not essential that it be satisfied in the form that the child seems to crave. That would go outrageous. It can be satisfied by being turned into another form of wanting, and that will help the child.

When you find a child, boy or girl, they both have the same cravings, wanting the pleasures that adults enjoy, think fast. What interest can you call upon to meet this other one and neutralize it? Could you give the boy a membership in the gym? Could the girl take dancing lessons? Is there work that either could do, work that they might enjoy and which might bring them money? You must find some other line of interest to oppose the wrong one and work it up. You have to say, Do this, instead of saying Don't do that.

Earning money is the very best cure for a child who takes it without the right to do so. First, there is the experience, always very sobering, of having to work whether one wishes to or not, of having to work to a standard set by the one who pays, of receiving just so much, usually a little less, than one feels he has earned. Money that is hard earned is not so easily parted with as money that has been purloined, or accepted as a gift.

Responsibility is another very steadying force. Just as soon as an adolescent displays a tendency to spend money recklessly it is time to begin informing him of his daily expenses. Let him know how much he costs. Then let him, and her—take over the burden of supplying some part of the money that it takes to keep him. If he smokes cigarettes let him buy them and at the same time pay for his own luncheons. If the girl wears a fresh pair of silk stockings every day, and takes no care of them, let her buy them for her self and at the same time buy her own luncheons, or pay her own carfare. Let them earn some of this money they so heedlessly handle. It is the only way to teach them.

It is not easy to keep one's head when children go wrong. But we can try. We can take time to consider and say, What interest can I call upon, what job can I offer, what responsibility can I put upon this child?

We can say Thou shalt, instead of Thou shalt not.
